FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Discussion on the Bill to Admit Reconstructed States—The Tax Bill—Mr. Woolley, the Contemptuous Witness, Expresses His Willingness to Purge Himself—Bill for the Admission of Arkansas Passed and Sent to the President.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 8, 1868.

SENATE.

The joint resolution to restore Captain James F. Armstrong to the active list in the navy passed.

Mr. VAN WINKLE, from the Committee on Pensions, reported adversely the bill declaring marriage shall not work forfeiture of widows' pensions.

A resolution of inquiry was adopted, whether any further legislation was necessary to secure greater facilities at local stations for post offices in large cities.

Mr. DAVIS introduced a bill to facilitate the decision of questions of conflicting jurisdiction between the United States and States by the Supreme Court. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. CORBETT introduced a bill to authorize the establishment of custom ports of delivery on the Pacific coast of the United States. Referred to Commitee on Commerce.

Mr. HENDRICKS called up the bill for the relief of certain naval contractors. It gives additional remuneration to a number of firms engaged in the construction of iron clads. Considerable discussion ensued.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the President pro tem. announced the special order, the bill to admit North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana and Florida and the pending bill laid aside.

Mr. CONKLING, by permission, called up the joint resolution to provide for the removal of the suit pending in the Circuit Court of Jefferson county, West Virginia, to the Circuit Court of the United States. It relates to a portion of the Harper's Ferry property, the sale of which was recently authorized by Congress.

Mr. HENDRICKS opposed the resolution, and moved to refer it to the Committee on Judiciary. The motion was rejected, the resolution adopted, and the consideration of the special order resumed.

The question was on the amendment of Mr. Wilson, to include Alabama in the provisions of the bill.

Messrs. VICKERS and SAULSBURY spoke against the bill, denying that Congress had any power to impose conditions upon the admission of States.

Mr. MORTON warned the two last speakers not to commit themselves in this matter of negro suffrage, as on the 4th of July next the prospect is that they will be replaced on the platform of universal suffrage and universal amnesty. (Laughter).

Mr. NYE suggested perhaps they would keep off the platform while the cars were in motion.

Mr. MORTON, after some remarks, gave notice that when in order he would move to insert additional provisions; first, making it the duty of the officers commanding the district to allow all officers elected under the new Constitutions and not disqualified to be installed within 120 days after the election, and to protect them in the discharge of their duties, said officers to be deemed provisional only and subject to United States authority until the provisions of this act are complied with; second, providing that in case any person shall be elected to office who would be disqualified under the Constitution when adopted, the person receiving the next highest number of votes shall be entitled to discharge the duties until a new election is held under the provisions of the Constitution of the State. He explained that the first provision is intended to meet the case of Gen. Buchanan's action in regard to the Chairman of the Louisiana Board of Registration; the second to render ineligible new officers elected who would become ineligible as soon as the 14th article becomes part of the Constitution.

Mr. DOOLITTLE asked leave to have read a memorial, signed Harry R. Austin, on behalf of a large number of citizens of Louisiana.

[Note.—Mr. Austin is the editor of a Democratic weekly journal in Washington devoted to the interests of workingmen.]

Objections were made by Messrs. CONNESS and WILLIAMS, and the Senate refused to receive the paper—twenty-nine to twenty-one.

A vote on Mr. WILSON'S amendment was urged.

Mr. TRUMBULL rose to reply to some points made in the debate. He called attention to the fact that the law was different at the time of the vote on the Alabama constitution, and its terms were not complied with by the people of Alabama. He claimed that every other State had cast more votes in favor of the constitution than did Alabama, which State, having 170,000 votes registered, cast but 69,600 in favor of it, 100,000 staying away from the polls, as authorized by law of Congress. He said it would be Lecompton legislation over again to admit her under these circumstances, and legislation which the people would never approve. He quoted from official figures of General Grant's report of May 12th, 1868, to show that in all the States but Georgia more than a majority of registered votes were cast in favor of the Constitution, and in Georgia the vote fell short of a majority but 6,743, while in Alabama it fell short 16,000. He again urged the hazard of losing the present bill by putting Alabama in it, and the propriety of deferring action in the matter of Alabama until some bill was brought forward. He would be ready to coöperate in any legislation necessary to meet the condition of things.

Mr. SHERMAN asserted that the Senator had compared the vote on the Convention in Alabama with the vote on the Constitution of other States.

Mr. TRUMBULL read the report again, which on its face stated to be the vote on the Constitution.

Mr. SHERMAN re-asserted, that the vote on the Constitution in all five States but South Carolina was smaller in proportion than in Alabama, and proceeded to read the figures of votes for the Conventions and the registered votes. He then read the votes on the ratification of the Constitution of Georgia and Alabama, and calling attention to the fact that in four counties of Alabama there were no elections, and allowing them the proportion of registration belonging to those counties, he claimed his assertion that the vote of Alabama was larger in proportion to the registered votes than that of the other five was correct. He again urged the necesssty of admitting Alabama, claiming she stands as strong, if not stronger, in favor of reconstruction than the others, save South Carolina.

Mr. STEWART took the same view, claiming she is fairly entitled to admission. That there is no reason for discriminating against her, and that loyalty in South Carolina requires and should have encouragement.

During the discussion the signing of the bill to admit Arkansas was announced by the chair. It goes to the President.

Mr. HENDRICKS moved to adjourn.

The CHAIR laid before the Senate a communication from the President transmitting a communication from the Postmaster General in reply to a resolution of inquiry for a copy of correspondence in reference to the new postal treaty. Referred to the Committee on Postoffices.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Bills and resolutions were presented for reference as follows:

Requesting the Judiciary Committee to inquire the cause of delay in the trial of Jefferson Davis, and whether any legislation is necessary to insure speedy trial.

To alter the laws of Ohio as to the manner of electing Representatives in Congress.

Making appropriations for the payment of the reward for the capture of Jefferson Davis.

Authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to sell at public auction certain property of the United States at Mackinaw.

To regulate trade on the Northern frontier.

To extend homestead laws to minor children of deceased soldiers.

Authorizing the construction of a railroad bridge over the Missouri river.

To provide for the inauguration of State officers in Arkansas, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama.

To carry into effect certain stipulations with the Choctaw Indians.

Granting pensions and homesteads to the orphan children of Brigadier General Chris. Carson.

To authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to sell the Custom House and grounds at Toledo, and furnish a new site for a Custom House and Post Office there.

To control bounty claim agents.

The call of States for bills being completed, the next business in order was the consideration of the resolution offered last Monday by Mr. Robinson, and which Mr. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, then moved to lay on the table, as follows:

Resolved, That in the judgment of the House the bonds and other securities issued by the United States, and which are exempt by law from State and Municipal taxation, ought to be taxed for National purposes in amount substantially equal to the average tax imposed in the several States for local purposes, in such a manner as may substantially equalize taxation, the tax to be deducted from coupons as they become due, and that the Committee of Ways and Means be instructed to report a bill for the purpose above specified.

The vote resulted—yeas 16, nays 100.

Mr. BLAINE moved to refer the resolution to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. HOLMAN said that would defeat the object of the resolution. He called for the yeas and nays.

The vote resulted—yeas 88, nays 34.

So the resolution was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Indiana, offered a joint resolution allowing twenty per cent. increase of salaries to employés in the civil service at Washington.

A motion by Mr. SELEYE to table it was rejected—46 against 71.

Pending the vote on seconding the previous question the morning hour expired, and the resolution went over till next Monday.

The SPEAKER presented correspondence relative to the visit of the Chinese Embassy to the House, and on motion appointed Messrs. Schenck, Banks and Wood a committee to receive the Embassy.

On motion of Mr. BROOKS, the Senate was invited to attend the reception.

The Conference report on the Arkansas bill came up and the House refused to table it—37 to 102—and it was adopted without a division.

The SPEAKER said he had been requested to present a communication from C. W. Woolley.

Mr. BUTLER objected, but subsequently offered a resolution that any communication from Mr. Woolley or his counsel be placed in the hands of the Speaker to be sent to the Committee on Investigation for examination.

Mr. BROOKS made the point of order that the Committee had not been in session for some days. There was no quorum of it in the city, therefore, the Committee could not have authorized the resolution.

The SPEAKER over-ruled the point of order and the House—86 to 36—voted to receive the resolution.

Mr. HOLMAN made the point of order that as the resolution referred to a communication, the latter should be read.

The SPEAKER over-ruled this, and after some debate, under the operation of the previous question the resolution was adopted—64 to 51.

Mr. ELDRIDGE moved to suspend the rules for the purpose of introducing a paper from Mr. Woolley, which should be read, and that having purged himself of contempt he be discharged.

This the House refused—38 to 79.

Mr. SHELLABARGER presented a resolution that Mr. Woolley be ordered to the bar of the House and allowed to purge himself of contempt, which was agreed to.

Mr. SCHENCK moved the House go into Committee of the Whole on the tax bill.

Mr. ELIOT appealed to Mr. Schenck to allow him to ask the House to make the River and Harbor appropriation bill the special order for Friday next.

Mr. SCHENCK declined to consent to anything being made special order until after the tax bill was disposed of, and suggested to Mr. Eliot to ask that it be made the special order after that time.

Mr. ELIOT said—I will do no such thing, and I give the gentleman notice that we will send his tax bill to the Committee before a week.

Mr. INGERSOLL—Which is not in order.

The SPEAKER presented a communication from the Secretary of War, with a report from General Hancock, in reference to government aid for the Union Pacific Railroad. Referred to Committee on Pacific Railroad.

Mr. VAN HORN, of New York, from the Committee on Niagara Ship Canal, reported a bill to provide for the construction of a ship canal around the falls of Niagara. Referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

The House then, at 3:20, went into Committee of the Whole and proceeded to the consideration of the tax bill.

In a quarter of an hour afterwards Mr. ELDRIDGE moved the Committee rise, as the witness, Mr. Wooley, was at the bar of the House.

The Committee accordingly rose, and the Sergeant-at-Arms presented the witness, C. W. Wooley.

The SPEAKER, addressing witness, read to him the resolution adopted by the House to-day, and asked him if he was ready to make such statement as would purge him of contempt of the authority of the House?

Witness—"I am, sir; (presenting a paper from his pocket,) this is my answer."

After considerable debate as to questions of order, Mr. SHELLABARGER offered a resolution requiring Mr. Wooley to state whether he was now willing to go before the Committee of Managers of the House and make answer to the questions for refusal to answer which he had been ordered into custody, and if so, he shall have such privilege as soon as the Committee can be convened, and that he in the meantime remain in custody, and in case witness declines, he shall be recommitted for continuance of contempt, and so remain until ready to make such answer.

Mr. BROOKS made the point of order that four members of the Committee were absent from the city, and the adoption of the resolution would detain the witness in further imprisonment in a dungeon.

The SPEAKER overruled the point, as the House had authorized the Committee to investigate by a Sub-Committee.

The resolution was adopted—93 to 32.

The SPEAKER then, addressing the witness, said—Mr. Woolley, I am instructed by the House of Representatives to propound to you the question, Are you now ready to testify before the said Committee and make answer to questions for the refusal to answer which you are now in custody?

Mr. Woolley, the witness—As my client has testified in reference to those questions, and as I take it to be the order of the House that I shall answer them, I will do so.

The SPEAKER—The order of the House then will be executed, that the witness appear before the Committee as soon as it will be convened, and that in the meantime the witness shall remain in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

The proceedings in regard to Mr. Woolley having thus terminated, the House again went into Committee on the Tax Bill, and immediately thereafter took a recess till 7:30.

EVENING SESSION.—The fifty-third section, in reference to appeals from assessment and taxation, being before the Committee, several amendments of detail were offered and discussed.

In the discussion of an amendment offered by Mr. JENCKES to the fifty-seventh section, proposing to give to the District Attorneys the power to discontinue suits in qui tam actions or enter a nolle prosequi in criminal cases, Mr. SCHENCK argued against the amendment, and stated that the "whiskey ring" had its aiders and abettors as often in the District Attorneys as in all other officers of the law. He had in his mind one proof furnished to the Committee of Ways and Means—the case of a judge in one of the federal courts, and of a district attorney, who had divided "black mail" between them, which was the consideration for their letting off some sixty culprits arraigned before the court. He trusted that it would result yet in an impeachment of that judge. The Committee ought not to throw everything into the power of district attorneys. He should hold a veto over all these cases. He was perfectly willing that in a proper case a district attorney should have his remedy against any possibility of the defeat of the ends of justice, by continuing his case if witnesses are spirited out of the way.

Mr. O'NEILL suggested the trouble may be frequently with grand juries, or officers by whom they were selected. He knew that was the case in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and he presumed it was so everywhere.

The amendment was modified by striking out the power to enter a nolle prosequi and agreed to.

Mr. PRICE offered an amendment to the fifty-seventh section, providing that in cases of compromises no less sum than twice the amount of the tax shall be received. Agreed to.

Amendments as to matters of detail, principally legal technicalities, were offered to that and subsequent sections, and discussed under the five minute rule. Some were agreed to and some rejected.

After discussion of the bill as far as the seventy-fifth section, the Committee rose and the House adjourned until 11 o'clock to-morrow.

New York City Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—There is a strong and growing feeling here in favor of nominating Chase for the Presidency in the Fourth of July Convention. The Albany Argus, Brooklyn Eagle, and other staunch Democratic sheets, are working for the Chief Justice. Indeed, he will carry in the Convention the bond party of the Democrats solid, with Belmont as the leader. Gov. Seymour is now said to favor Chase and Cass. The hotels are preparing to reap a rich harvest from the vast crowd of politicians that will swarm the city next month, and orders for rooms are already arriving by mail.

Mr. Goulding, who won the race of one thousand miles in as many hours, on Saturday, has been paid his two thousand dollars. He has not been aroused from sleep yet, as his fatigue is so great as to make him sleep very heavily. Surgeons examine the pulse every hour. The flesh is worn off his feet and they are very much inflamed.

There were only three hundred and sixty deaths last week, sixty less than the week previous.

A woman named Koenig, residing at Yottenburg, N. Y., was charged, on evidence of a physician named Leclere, with having caused the death of her husband by giving morphine to him.

A large increase was noticeable yesterday in the number of arrests for violation of the excise law. Six persons were brought before Justice Mansfield and eight before Justice Hogran. They were allowed to give bail in $100 each. The enforcement of the law has of late been very lax.

The piano makers' strike is ended, the employés of the only factory which held out till Friday night having resumed work on a compromise.

The clothing cutters are in a fair way of getting the increased pay demanded by them, as nearly all the larger houses having agreed to pay it.

The Bakers Union No. 1, and part also of Nos. 2 and 3 are on a strike for three dollars more per week, and the reduction of a day's labor to twelve hours. If more than a majority of the bakers in the city will not agree by Saturday, June 20th, the journeymen bakers intend to quit work in a body.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says another big Indian land job has come to light. On Wednesday the Osage nation was induced by promises and intimidations on part of the Commission, which is headed by the Indian Commissioner, Taylor, to sell eight million acres of land, on their reservation, for twenty cents an acre, payable in fifteen years to a private party, while numerous better bids were made for the same land by other parties.

Arrested for Forgery.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, June 7.—Walter B. Rodgers was arrested to-day, and confessed to having obtained two thousand and five dollars within two months past on forged checks in the name of Brooks & Rodgers, wholesale shoe dealers, from the Western National Bank of this city.

Public Debt Statement—City Government Imbroglio—Proposed Tariff Regulations with Canada—Resignation of Commissioner Rollins—Woolley, the Contumacious Witness, Submits, and will Purge Himself of Contempt.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 8, 1868.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

Debt bearing coin interest	$2,020,827,841 80
Debt bearing currency interest	203,117,560 00
Matured debt not presented for payment	8,834,202 64
Debt bearing no interest	408,973,981 94
Total	$2,643,753,586 38
Coin in Treasury	$ 90,228,559 31
Currency in Treasury	43,279,120 33
Debt less cash in Treasury	$2,510,245,886 64

The gold bearing debt has increased during May $57,449,590. The seven-thirties were reduced $58,008,050; compound interest notes reduced $19,701,710. The debt bearing gold and currency interest, and the matured debt not presented for payment, increased $3,120,079, of which $1,920,000 consists of bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad. The coin increased $16,681,098.64; currency decreased $11,104,983.51. The entire debt is increased $9,717,059.18, owing chiefly to heavy payments of interest.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT.

There was much excitement to-day on the occasion of the forming of the new city government. Certificates of election having been given to Republicans, and the retiring Mayor having given certificates to Conservatives, the two equally divided bodies met in the Aldermanic Chamber, and each having elected a presiding officer much confusion ensued. The presence of a strong police force alone prevented violence. A Republican member appointed to canvass the votes announced the election of Sayles J. Bowen by eighty-three votes. This was persistently denied by the opposition. Bowen appeared and was sworn in by a Justice of the Peace. When Mr. Bowen went to the Mayor's office he found the place locked, and acting under legal advice he sent a force of locksmiths who opened the doors and now has full possession.

The Conservative members of the Board of Aldermen have entered on the journal a protest against what they characterize as an illegal proceeding on the part of the minority of the Joint Convention in declaring Sayles J. Bowen, Mayor elect. They further protest against the two colored men as members from the First ward, as none but white male citizens, they say, are entitled to seats in the Council. The Republicans, although not united in a protest, are equally emphatic in asserting the correctness of their own course. It is not yet known how the troubles will be adjusted.

PROPOSED TREATY TARIFF.

Mr. Beaman's bill, introduced in the House, allows admission into the United States, at a duty of five per cent. ad valorem, of grain, flour and breadstuffs of all kinds, fish smoked and salted, green and dried fruit, fish of all kinds, poultry, butter, cheese, maple sugar, lard, tallow, lumber of all kinds, round, hewed or sawed, but not otherwise manufactured, fish oil, coal, firewood, grindstones, rough and unfinished, the growth and produce of the Province of British North America, provided similar articles, the growth and produce of the United States, be admitted to the British Provinces at a similar rate; and that all export duties therein shall be abolished. The bill also provides for the free navigation of Lake Michigan by citizens of Canada, provided that a similar privilege be given citizens of the United States as to the St. Lawrence and its water, and without distinction of tolls on canals; also for free transit of goods in bond from Portland to the Canadian line, if similar privilege is extended to the United States from Windsor or Port Sarnia, or other western points to Buffalo or other points eastward, and that free ports in Canada be abolished; also that the right of fishing near the shore, existing under the treaty of 1854, shall be granted by the United States to said Provinces on the extension of the same privilege to the United States on the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes. No part of the act to go into effect until the stipulations are mutually agreed to by the government of the Provinces and the United States.

MR. WOOLLEY, THE WITNESS.

The petition of C. W. Woolley recites the facts of his interrogation and imprisonment and states that being relieved from his obligation of secrecy by the testimony of his client, Sheridan Shook, on Saturday last, before the Committee, he respectfully submits the following answer to the first question. That he did send the dispatch of the 8th of May in said question referred to, designing thereby to request the said Shook to place to his credit with Messrs. Gillis, Harvey & Co., the sum of $20,000 for your petitioner to obtain a reduction in whisky, in regard to which said Shook was interested, and which had been the subject of a conversation between Shook and your petitioner, without having arrived at any understanding as to proceedings therein; but your petitioner believed he would be willing to aid in a measure largely to his interest, and as to the use of a fictitious name and absence of specific expressions in said telegram your petitioner says such precautions are absolutely necessary in communicating, by telegraph, in order to avoid disclosure of private affairs to those who are seeking their discovery. He believes the matters above referred were sufficiently well understood between himself and said Shook to have enabled him to be understood and apply each communication to its appropriate subject; but that Shook did so far as your petitioner is informed, act upon said telegrams, or either of them, by making the deposit or furnishing the money they called for. And your petitioner further avers that said telegrams had no reference to any other subject than as hereinbefore set forth, and no reference to the trial of the President on articles of impeachment preferred by the House of Representatives against him, nor any allusion therein whatever.

Mr. Woolley also accounts for the disposition of the $20,000. Part he says was spent on the private business of his client, and part was handed to Ransom Van Valkenberg, of New York, at a convivial party, witness believing at the time he was giving it to Mr. Shook. He denies any disrespect to the House or Managers, and files an affidavit from Ransom Van Valkenberg, Robert Strong, Cornelius Wendell and Chas. H. Shelley, fully setting forth the disposal of the money.

COMMISSIONER ROLLINS RESIGNED.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Rollins has written a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury resigning the position, the resignation to take effect on the confirmation of his successor.

LOUISIANA.

The District Commander and Registration Board—Railroad Suit Decided.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 8.—In consequence of the arrest of Mr. Packard, on Saturday, the balance of the members of the Convention and of the Board of Registration issued yesterday another proclamation denouncing Gen. Buchanan and endorsing Packard, and consequently were arrested this morning, but all released by Gen. Buchanan in obedience to a telegram. In releasing them Gen. Buchanan informed them that should Congress fail to legislate in the matter of the admission of Louisiana, they will be rearrested and brought to trial before a military commission.

The suit brought by Governor Wells and Mayor Heath to test the legality of the last election of directors of the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad in which both State and city were excluded, was decided by the Supreme Court to-day. The decision of the lower court was reversed and the Supreme Court decided the Governor had a right to vote the stock of State and the Mayor the stock of the city.

NEW ORLEANS, June 8.—The Republican of to-morrow will contain the proclamation by the Convention and Registration Board asserting that its authority is paramount to that of the Commanding General, and charging that the latter has transcended his prerogatives in promulgating an election for State, parish and municipal officers, and naming the time for said officers to qualify and take possession of their offices, in assuming to convene the General Assembly, in assuming the power of appointing persons to fill offices when the persons elected cannot qualify, claiming the right of persons having the highest number of votes who can qualify to fill said offices, and by refusing to send election returns to the Board, and concludes by notifying all persons whom General Buchanan's order has declared elected that the Constitution of Louisiana, meaning the Constitution adopted by the late Convention, requires them to enter upon their offices at once, as set forth in a former proclamation from this Board, and that any orders from any source directing to the contrary are illegal and not binding, and the parties so attempting to take office will lay themselves liable to action at law by the parties ejected, as well as the risk of certain removal from office.

THE INDIANS.

More Outrages—The War Between the Cheyennes and Kaws.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Omaha dispatches say the Methodist Bishops and Ministers returned from their excursion to the mountains this morning. Several will preach in the different churches to-night.

The farmers in Wind River Valley were alarmed by the appearance of Indians. A number have gone to North Pass for safety.

Helena and Montana papers report the Indians stealing stock in the Missouri Valley. They have already driven away two hundred head of stock. The farmers are pursuing them.

The Indians are troublesome on the Upper Missouri, driving off stock. On May 21st they fired on the pilot on the way up. On May 26th they killed two soldiers at Camp Reeves, in sight of their tents. On May 29th they fired on the steamer Hiram Wood, above Berthold. Three shots entered the pilot-house, but no person was injured. On June 3d Gen. Terry and Father De Smet were at Fort Rice urging peace upon the whole Sioux Nation, but the Indians say they don't care about peace, and want more ammunition.

The Leavenworth Conservative, of Saturday, states that Governor Crawford has gone to Council Grove to look after the reported difficulties between the Cheyennes and Kaw Indians, and has dispatched to his Secretary from Fort Leavenworth for twenty thousand rounds carbine cartridges, and to ship them by the first train. Further particulars were anxiously looked for.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—The Topeka (Kansas) Record of Saturday says a dispatch from Junction City to Gov. Crawford states the Cheyenne Indians had left the Kaw reserve, and were in Lyon Creek, driving off settlers and destroying everything as they went.

Advices were also received from Cottonwood Falls that some five hundred wild Indians were in Diamond Creek, driving off stock and committing other depredations. About twenty five families had come into Cottonwood Falls for protection.

TENNESSEE.

The Democratic Convention—Nashville and North Western Railroad Trouble.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, June 8.—The Democratic State Convention to-morrow promises to be the largest held here for years. Delegates have arrived in considerable numbers from all parts of the State. The idea of running Chase is universally ignored. Johnson has many friends, and Pendleton as many or more. The only subject of controversy will be as to the policy of expressing a preference for either. The friends of Johnson declare Pendleton their second choice. No other names are seriously mentioned in connection with the nomination. A preliminary meeting was held to-night to compare views.

The Nashville and Northwestern Railroad imbroglio continues with no prospect of a speedy settlement. In the meantime no trains run and the men are idle. The amount due the striking employes is $140,000.

Board of Trade Excursionists.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

READING, June 8.—The excursionists of the National Board of Trade, eighty-five in number, arrived here this morning by a special train. From here they went over the Lebanon Valley road to Harrisburg and returning this afternoon went up the Reading road to Mount Carbon, where they remain to-night. To-morrow they will visit a portion of the Schuylkill coal region, after which they will visit the Carbon, Lehigh and Luzerne regions.

Rebel Notes, &c., Illegal — Virginia Treasury.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, June 8.—Chief Justice Chase in a case to-day charged the jury that all bonds, drafts, notes, &c., drawn during the war, in rebel States, are illegal and cannot be recovered at law.

The State Auditor wrote a letter to-day announcing there would not be money in the treasury to pay the July interest on State bonds.

FROM EUROPE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 8.—Chief Justice Cockburn states that the charge delivered by Judge Blackburn to the Grand Jury, which recently refused to bring a bill of indictment against Ex-Gov. Eyre, of Jamaica, is contrary to the opinion of a majority of the Court of Queen's Bench.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 8.—The Etendard in an article on the action of the Austrian House deputies concerning the National debt advises the Reichsrath not to adopt the proposed heavy tax on coupons.

MARINE NEWS.

QUEENSTOWN, June 8.—The steamer Malta, from New York on the 28th ult., arrived to-day.

LIVERPOOL, June 8.—Cotton; sales of 7,000 bales; uplands, 11¾a11⅞d.; Orleans, 11⅝a11⅞d. Rosin 6s. Tallow, 44s. Petroleum; refined advancing at 1s. 4d.; spirits do., 8d.

ANTWERP, June 8.—Petroleum firmer.

Terrible Wind and Rain Storm.

[By telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

UTICA, N. Y., June 8.—A terrible storm of wind and rain passed over this region on Saturday afternoon. The brick chimney, eighty feet high, attached to the Eagle Cotton factory of George W. Chadwick, at New Hartford, six miles from this city, was thrown upon the roof of the machine shop, crushing the structure to the ground. Eight men were at work in the shop. One named Harry Kuaft was instantly killed and four others severely injured, one of whom it is thought cannot recover. Kuaf was horribly mutilated. Loss about $10,000.

Priest Committed to Jail.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, June 8.—Rev. Lambert Young, a Catholic priest of Frankfort, was yesterday committed to the county jail by order of Judge Ballard, of the United States District Court, for declining to give testimony in the case of the mobbing and hanging of a negro in Frankfort last January for the alleged ravishing and attempting to murder an Irish girl of that place.

The Oregon Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The steamer Continental from Oregon brings fuller returns of the late election in that State. The election of Smith, Democrat, to Congress by seven hundred and fifty majority, is conceded, also a Democratic majority in the Legislature. Washington, Hamhill and Clattsop counties elected local Union tickets.

South Carolina Elections.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHARLESTON, June 8.—Returns from the county elections held last week show that the Radicals have again carried most of the counties, but by reduced majorities. Many counties in the interior which gave Radical majorities in April have elected Democratic county tickets. In some of these registration showed large negro majorities.

Rhode Island Legislature—Sprague to be Re-elected United States Senator.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

FROVIDENCE, R. I., June 8.—The General Assembly meets to-morrow at Newport, and will elect a United States Senator. At the Legislative caucus this evening, Senator Sprague was nominated for re-election without opposition.

Trial for Fraud Postponed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, June 8.—The trial of Hartwell, Mellon and Ward, implicated in the State street frauds, has been postponed until October, the parties giving bail for $20,000 each.

Memphis Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, June 8.—Cotton dull and nominal; receipts 43 bales; exports 9 bales. Flour declining and irregular; superfine $8,00. Pork $29,00. Bacon, weak shoulders 13¼, clear sides 16¾a17c. Lard 19a20c. Corn $1,95a1,97. Oats 87c. Hay $18,00a19,00. Bran 30c. Eggs 18c. Butter 30 and dull.

THE SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH, of Newport, Rhode Island, notwithstanding the recent resolution of the Rhode Island Baptist Convention that ministers and churches admitting persons to communion who had not been immersed could not be recognized as Baptists, still adheres to the practice of giving a general invitation to all Christians to their communion table, and of receiving members of other denominations, Episcopalians, Moravians, Methodists and others with perfect cordiality. The Sunday after the resolution of the Convention the same invitation was given, without any notice of the proclamation. The Rev. Charles Malcolm, son of Dr, Howard Malcolm, is the pastor.

THE Salem (Mass.) Register, in noticing two funeral processions on foot, comprising women as well as men, says: "This is an indication of a return to the old-fashioned custom of showing respect to the memory of the dead, without the necessity of providing carriages for the female portion of the procession. It is a serious tax upon the poor, already suffering enough in the loss perhaps of the head and support of the family, to hire a large number of coaches as a condition of the attendance of friends and acquaintances. We hail these instances as a good indication."

SMALL-POX, according to Sir James Simpson, might be stamped out in a single year in Great Britain, by perfect measures of isolation. This assertion is supported by the statistics of the New York Quarantine Board, which show that the mortality from this terrible disease, the most common form of emigrant sickness, has been greatly diminished in that seaport. The average yearly deaths from small-pox in New York, for the eighteen years preceding 1866, were 400, the numbers for 1865 and 1867, were 26 and 19.

CANADA POSTAGE.—The postage on paid letters to and from Canada was reduced on the 1st of April last from ten cents to six cents for each half ounce letter. Notwithstanding this reduction, it is said that a large number of letters are still prepaid with ten cent stamps. Unpaid letters only are charged ten cents. Canada postage includes Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, but not Newfoundland and Prince Edward's Island. To the latter the charge remains at ten cents.

DAY IS DYING.

Day is dying! Float, O song,
Down the Western river,
Requiem chanting to the Day—
Day the mighty Giver.

Pierced by shafts of Time he bleeds,
Melted rubies sending
Through the river and the sky,
Earth and Heaven blending;

All the long-drawn earthy banks,
Up to cloud-land lifting:
Slow between them drifts the swan,
'Twixt two heavens drifting.

Wings half open, like a flow'r
Inly deeper flushing,
Neck and breast as Virgin's pure—
Virgin proudly blushing.

Day is dying! Float, O swan,
Down the ruby river;
Follow, song, in requiem
To this mighty giver.

—Somebody put a laurel wreath on the bronze statue of Lincoln in front of the Washington City Hall on Decoration day.

—The Chicago Grant Clubs are very active. Activity is an excellent thing for Grant and other Republican clubs to cultivate.

—The N. Y. Tribune thinks Miss Matilda Herron's acting is not up to her old standard, and calls her a coarse unpolished woman.

—Andrew Johnson has bought two mills and is going to turn miller, and take to the white hat as soon as he has to leave the White House.

—The Boston Post says "Radical papers are ashamed of the rejection of Mr. Stanbery." We don't believe it—but we hope the Post does.

—Large quantities of wood are said to be imported to Gettysburg, from which canes and other souvenirs of the battle-field are manufactured.

—Jarrett and Palmer's White Fawn is losing the money which the Black Crook made. Spectacles are no longer first favorites on the stage.

—Andrew Johnson and John B. Gough are spoken of as a strong ticket for the Democrats, so that they can catch both the anti-excise law and the temperance advocates.

—Mount Vernon is said to be going to rack and ruin. Why do not some of the ladies who begged the money to buy it, see that, now that it is in their hands, it is properly preserved?

—Prof. Morse has come from Europe where he was everywhere treated with the most distinguished attention. Columbus himself could hardly have made more sensation in Germany.

—Flotow has composed a new comic opera in three acts. It has four characters and no chorus. Just suited for some of the opera companies that come here—that is, if it has no orchestra either.

—The New York Commercial Advertiser says it is a pity that the Democratic party which claims to have swept Oregon couldn't do a little of the same thing for the streets of New York, which are in a filthy condition.

—There are 200,000 Israelites in the United States, 40,000 of whom are in New York. There are 170 synagogues in the country, and three-quarters of the present Jewish population have immigrated since 1848.

—The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser does not believe in Thompson's Seasons. It is gathering up a new edition with revisions, and gives this as a specimen: "Hail, drizzling spring! Diptherial dampness, hail!"

—Hear what the New York World says of Grant: "Of the sturdiness and staunchness of Gen. Grant's patriotism, or the uprightness and solidity of his character, no man in the country doubts or affects to doubt."

—An exchange makes the following vicious thrust at the poor hobbledehoys: "What are you doing with my microscope, George?" "I've been shaving, father, and I want to see if there are any hairs in the lather."

—Some people doubt the truth of the story that Stephen A. Douglas proposed to Mrs. Lincoln before she was married. They base their doubt on the trivial fact that he never saw her until she had been Mrs. Lincoln some time.

—Gen. McClellan is going to enter the Presidential canvass in favor of the New York nominees. Four years ago the General spoiled what little chance he had of election with a single epistle. What will be the effect of a series of tirades?

—The New York Commercial Advertiser asks: "Are American women Drunkards?" We can assert with certainty and pleasure, that whatever may be the answer to the conundrum, all of the women in America are not drunkards.

—The Paris Standard takes a poetical view of Andrew Johnson and says he has felt the cold of the axe but not death. As we don't execute with axes in this country we might say that he is covered with pitch from the rope, but is not hanged yet.

—Somebody is to make a funny book about the Chinese visit. We hope it is not the young man in Philadelphia who made the book last summer about clergymen going to Europe, for that was a little too stupid for any place but an asylum for weak minded children.

—Charles Dickens has done a noble action. The novelist always sympathized deeply with the blind, and now he has sent to Dr. Howe, of Boston, $1,700, which is the requisite sum for getting out an edition of 250 copies of "The Old Curiosity Shop," printed in raised letters for that afflicted class.

—At Marrowbone, Moultrie county, Illinois, a teacher beat a little girl unmercifully because she would not say "naughty" fifty times. For this the father beat the teacher severely. The teacher was fined ten dollars and costs for beating the child; the father, fifteen dollars and costs for beating the teacher.

—Public Opinion says of Walt Whitman's poems, that any man in England who might issue such senseless trash, would be considered a proper inmate for an asylum. Public Opinion seems to ignore the fact that it is principally in England where Mr. Whitman's poems have been fully and very highly appreciated.

DR. ALBERT DAY, the Superintendent of the Binghamton, N. Y., Inebriate Asylum, has written the following statement in reply to an inquiry respecting the assertions of temperance lecturers, to the effect that the Asylum was overrun with applications for admission from wives of clergymen and professional men and females generally:

The report of the temperance lecturer, who stated "that the Asylum at Binghamton, N. Y., contained 1,300 rich men's daughters, who had been sent there to be treated, 150 ministers, 400 doctors, and 600 lawyers," is as far from the truth as anything could be. The story has been the rounds of the papers, not only of this country, but of Europe. It has been denied time and again, but temperance lecturers will continue to repeat it.

There never has been a female patient admitted to this Asylum. There have been fifteen or twenty applications for the admission of females during the past year, and most of these were opium cases. During the last eleven years I have been in charge of an Inebriate Asylum (ten years in Boston and one year here), and am well satisfied that the per centage of drunken women in our country is very small indeed. When there is one, it is an anomaly, and quite as rare as high crimes of any kind.

But the statement of this lecturer as above reported is so preposterous and absurd that any common mind will reject it at once. This Asylum is devoted exclusively to men, and there are now sixty-six patients here, the largest number ever before in the Asylum. During the past year one hundred and sixty have been admitted here, and of that number three were ministers, four were doctors and five lawyers. So by this you can see how near the truth are these stories. This is bad enough, but for the honor of our country and the hope of Christian civilization, don't let us publish to the world such abominable statements as the above.

NEAR San Francisco is a "restaurant," where the proprietors are compelled to adopt strict rules regarding payment for meals, as the public in that vicinity are in the habit of getting all they can without paying, and if allowed to eat before settling they want it charged. Recently a stranger called in and ordered soup. The waiter brought it up, set it down, then held out his hand. "What for?" inquired the stranger. "Pay, sir!" "What! before I eat it? wait till I get through." "No, sir, we want pay before you eat." "Well, that I never do; when I get through with the soup I will talk about pay." "That won't answer; I want pay now," exclaimed the waiter. "Well, if you can get it before I see fit to pay, let's see you," he replied, holding on to the plate and commencing to eat. At this the waiter whips out of his pocket a large syringe, inserts the point into the soup and empties the dish before the astonished man can fully recover from his amazement at the strange proceeding. Exit waiter in triumph.

THE CHINESE EMBASSADOR.—Our Oriental visitors have a rich vein of humor under their sedate demeanor. On their exit from Gurney's photograph gallery in New York, Monday afternoon, a number of ladies stood by to scrutinize them, and while the carriages were being drawn up a temporary halt on the sidewalk was made. A lady standing near the rather handsome form of Tung, forgetting good breeding in her dedesire to acquire hirsute knowledge under difficulties, very deliberately took in her ungloved hand his long and elaborately plaited cue, black as coal and almost as coarse as the hair of a "big Injun," and critically examined it. Tung eyed the "lady" for a moment, a smile illuminating his broad, flat face as he glanced knowingly at her own coiffure, and then bowing said, "All mine! all mine!" The inquisitive feminine retired in disgust.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
MONDAY, June 8, 1868. }

There is no improvement to note in the tone of the general markets; the demand for almost everything is very light, being restricted almost entirely to supplying the immediate wants of the local trade. So far as values are concerned there are no material changes, though the tendency is still downward.

BUTTER—There is but very little Butter in the hands of commission men, but farmers and peddlers are bringing enough to supply the wants of the local trade, and there is no inquiry for shipment. Prime to choice Roll may be quoted at 18 to 22 cts.

EGGS—Continue to meet with a steady demand, and prices are well sustained, ranging from 23 to 24.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull but unchanged; we continue to quote Peaches (prime halves) at 12 to 13, and Apples at 6½ to 7½ cts.

GRAIN—Wheat continues dull, notwithstanding the arrivals are light and stock pretty well reduced; prime Red may be quoted at $2,35 to $2,40, and 5 to 8 cents higher for White. Oats dull and drooping; we now quote at 78 to 80c, on wharf, and the usual advance for small lots in store. Corn, also, is dull; sale of 200 bushels Shelled at $1,03; prime Ear Corn would command $1,07 to $1,08, as it is very scarce. Rye is dull and nominal at $1,60 to $1,65.

POTATOES—Continue very dull and drooping; small sales in store at $1,30 for Prince Alberts, and $1,35 for Peach Blows. New crop Potatoes are being sold at $9 per barrel.

ONIONS—Sales of new crop (Bermuda) Onions at $4 per bushel.

HOMINY—Sales at $6,25 to $6,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull and a little weak but unchanged; 14c for Shoulders; 16c to 18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 19 to 20c for Plain Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendered Lard, 18½ to 19c. Mess Pork, $28 to $28,50.

CHEESE—Sales of Hamburg at 14c, and Factory at 15c.

LARD OIL—Is dull but unchanged; we continue to quote at $1,50 for Extra No. 1, and $1,25 for No. 2.

FLOUR—Is dull and somewhat neglected, but without quotable change. We continue to quote at $10,50 to $11 for Spring Wheat; $11,75 to $12,25 for Winter Wheat; and $13 to $14 for fancy brands. Winter Wheat, extra, $9,50. Rye Flour, $10.

RIVER NEWS.

The Allegheny rose steadily all Sunday night, and up until last evening when it appeared to be at a stand with a little over ten feet in the channel. As yet, there has been no rise worthy of the name in the Monongahela; the marks showed about eight feet two inches—mainly back water from the Allegheny. At Oil City the Allegheny was reported receding with six feet in the channel. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and seemingly settled.

The arrivals since our last include the Argosy and St. Marys, from Cincinnati; the Kate Putnam, from St. Louis, and the Julia, from Zanesville.

The St. Marys, for Cincinnati, was the only departure.

Capt. J. T. Stockdale received a telegram from Omaha to-day, announcing the arrival of the Sallie at that place from Fort Benton.

The Maggie Hays, Capt. B. C. Martin, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and is announced to take her departure to-day.

The Bayard, Capt. Shepard, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving at noon. The Julia No. 2, Capt. Wm. Coulson, is the regular packet for Zanesville, leaving at 4 p. m.

The rise in the Allegheny will let out several tows of coal for lower ports now ready to leave. The run of coal on this water will be a light one, as the rise is wholly from the Allegheny river, and the break at dam No. 2 prevents the locking through of barges at this time. The following will get away to day and to-morrow:

FOR CINCINNATI.

Coal Hill, 9 barges	90,000
Whale, 6 baages	55,000
Lion, 6 barges	55,000
Hercules, 5 barges and 1 boat	75,000
Total	475,000

FOR LOUISVILLE,

Fearless, 9 brgs, 2 coal boats, 1 fuel do.	120,000
Diamond, 10 barges	100,000
Mary Ann, 12 barges	120,000
N. J. Bigley, 6 barges	60,000
Total	400,000

The Cincinnati Commercial of Sunday says: Among the passengers by the McCullough, yesterday, we were pleased to find the veteran Captain Moore, father of the commanding officer of this fine steamer. He is a veteran boatman, and although in his eighty-fifth year, is enjoying excellent health. He resides at Wellsville, Ohio.

Captain W. Devinney died a short time since at Pekin, Ill., in the fifty eighth year age. He had been a resident of Pekin for eighteen years. In 1843 he commanded the steamer Exact, in 1845 the Santa Fee, and in 1850 the Bridgeport, all Illinois river boats.

The statement that the Robert E. Lee came from New Orleans in three days and six hours is quite a mistake. She left New Orleans Saturday at 5 p. m., and arrived at Cairo Thursday, at 1 p. m. We think that looks very like four days and eight hours.

The sternwheel steamer Enterprise was sold at New Orleans last Monday by the United States Marshal to Captain H. L. Lee for $2,600.

About nine o'clock Thursday night, there was a perfect hurricane when the Canada and Pembina met near Hannibal, upper Mississippi. The wind was so strong that it was feared steamboats would swamp or lose their upper works. But they didn't as far as heard.

We clip the following from the Louisville Courier, of Saturday:

The towboats with tows of coal arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday. Star 6 barges, Louisville; Simpson Horner, 8 boats and 4 barges and 2 full boats, containing 218,000 bushels. New Orleans; Hercules, five boats and 2 barges, Louisville; Greyhound, 7 barges, Cairo. The Ajax, from New Orleans, with a tow of 18 empty barges arrived at the foot of the wharf yesterday. She will come up to-day. The towboat Grand Lake, with a tow of empty barges will come up over the falls to-day. The statement that the Bengal Tiger arrived Thursday with a tow of coal was incorrect. It was the Big Alps. The Tiger had not arrived up to dark last evening. The officers of the Hercules report her lying at Hunter's bottom working her syphon pumps, and it was supposed she had snagged one of her barges. The Fred Wilson arrived on Thursday.

We clip the following from the St. Louis Republican of Saturday:

Business on the wharf was unusually active with steamers, but more especially was this the case with steamers loading for New Orleans; and we are more pleased to note that the increased activity with these boats is owing to having finally and "for good" abandoned the ruinous policy of allowing a discrimination in rates in favor of ihe barges, a move that we have always and invariably advocated. The first step in this action was made by Capt. Donaldson, of the Great Republic, on Friday, and it is but justice to Captain D. to state that he has advocated this step ever since the organization of the "Compromise line." A simple statement of facts connected with the present state of affairs is this, that on Friday morning it was fully evident to Captain Donaldson that if he continued in allowing the barges a discrimination of five cents per barrel on flour, other articles in proportion, it would be a matter of utter impossibility for him to load the Great Republic this week; and he, therefore, came to the conclusion that even if he had to make the fight by himself, that he would do it. A consultation, however, with Mr. President Lewis, of the A. & M. S. S., showed him that he would have assistance, so he at once announced the Great Republic as taking freight to New Orleans at "barge rates." Step by step the rates were reduced until yesterday morning, he completed his cargo at 20c per barrel with the Barge Company. Satisfied that he was in earnest and meant to follow them, and they "quit," not wanting any more of it. As an evidence that shippers prefer steamboats "at the same rate," we would mention that the Great Republic received more freight on Tuesday than in all of the three days previous, and yesterday evening she took her departure, drawing all the water is in the river. The contest is now in earnest and we are distinctly and emphatically informed by Capt. Carroll, the General Freight Agent of the A. & M. S. S. Co. and Compromise line, that hereafter the rates of freight to New Orleans by his boats will be the same as charged by the Barge Company, let that figure be what it may.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE, issued on Wednesdays and Saturdays, is the best and cheapest family newspaper in Pennsylvania. It presents each week forty-eight columns of solid reading matter. It gives the fullest as well as the most reliable market reports of any paper in the State. Its files are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county for reference in important issues to determine the ruling prices in the markets at the time of the business transaction in dispute. Terms: Single copy, one year, $1.50; in clubs of five, $1,25; in clubs of ten, $1,15, and one free to the getter up of the club. Specimen copies sent free to any address.

WE PRINT on the inside pages of this morning's GAZETTE: Second page: "Day is Dying," from a New Work in Press, Table Talk, General Miscellany. Third page: Pittsburgh Markets, New York Financial Matters, Markets by Telegraph, Imports, River News, Steamboat Announcements and Railway Time Tables. Sixth page: Home Finance and Trade, Allegheny Cattle Markets, Pittsburgh Petroleum Markets. Seventh page: Farm, Garden and Household, Amusement Directory.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 139⅜.

WHENEVER the Pittsburgh Post shall have corrected its mis-statement, which attributed to the Republicans a recent "confidential" circular from the Johnson men at Washington, blackmailing Postmasters for the benefit of the administration, its respectful enquiries on other points will be entitled to reply.

ARKANSAS is admitted, so far as the action of Congress can go, the House having adopted the report of the Conference Committee by the decisive vote of 102 to 38. The precise vote of the Senate adopting the same report on Saturday has not yet been stated. The President has until the 18th inst. to consider the bill. If he follows his own inclinations, or Democratic advice, Arkansas will remain as a "military satrapy" unless two-thirds of the Senate shall override the veto.

RECENT statements, appearing in the Pittsburgh Commercial, to the effect that "conferences in New York, between certain of the managers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company, had resulted in an arrangement to consolidate the two roads, and that the contract was in preparation and would be signed by both parties by the middle of this month," are directly and officially contradicted by President CASS, of the latter company, in a card published in the same journal yesterday. Gen. CASS says:

> Several conferences have been held by Committees representing the two Boards of Directors, but no arrangement to consolidate the two roads has been agreed on or seriously considered. No agreement of any kind has been arrived at, and of course no contract is being prepared for signature. What may be the result of a future conference, I do not believe any one can with certainty predict, excepting that the managers of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company will hardly agree to anything incompatible with their duty to the public, and the owners of the property.

MR. CHASE aims to strengthen himself in the race for the Democratic nomination by combinations to secure local interests in his favor. His friends make a sharp dash at Pennsylvania by offering the Vice Presidency to Gen. G. W. CASS. If the Democracy in this region are sincere in their demands for PENDLETON and greenbacks, how easily they could be reconciled to a ticket which associates one of their prominent citizens with "Old Greenbacks" himself. Mr. CHASE is the "original Jacobs," who made all the "Linkin money" in the first place. Why don't our Democratic friends take him up in place of the shabby Cincinnati imitator? CHASE and CASS would sound very well. The party banner would need but one name to complete a single-syllabled trio. Birmingham supplies it, and CHASE, CASS and BURTT would awaken an unsurpassed Democratic enthusiasm.

THE Alabama Democracy furnish a very obvious and sensible reply to the clamor of Northern Copperheads against Senator EDMUNDS' resolution excluding unreconstructed States from the Electoral College. The Alabama Convention concludes that, unless represented in Congress, that State could have no voice at the Presidential election, and its delegates to the Democratic Convention to be held in New York were accordingly instructed that "not representing any recognized vote in the Electoral College, it is the sense of the Convention they should not have a voice in the choice of candidates." It is entirely immaterial whether, or not, this resolution had its origin in any particular preference for a candidate. We refer to it only to show that even the Southern rebel Democracy have not the cheek to sustain the claims which are made by their Northern brethren.

A DEMOCRATIC State Convention last week "tendered the thanks of the Southern people to JEFF. DAVIS for the unflinching courage and unsurpassed ability with which he acquitted himself of his official oath to defend the Constitution, and paying to him the respect of the Convention, as a patriot and incorruptible man." That Convention sat in Alabama, but it represented the National Democracy. Its delegates will meet the Pennsylvania Democratic delegates in New York, and their votes will have equal weight in nominating a Democratic candidate, and in "proclaiming Democratic principles." If that platform is a square and honorable one, it will meet the just expectations in this respect of its Alabama supporters. And it will be upheld by Pennsylvania Democrats who "respect JEFF. DAVIS as a patriot and incorruptible man." How can any patriotic citizen continue to act with a faction which thus reiterates its devotion to the "lost cause"?

CHASE AND JOHNSON.

When Chief Justice CHASE made such positive statements that the President would certainly approve the bills admitting the reconstructed States, he spoke "without the book," if yesterday's telegrams are to be credited. These reports, coming through both Copperhead and more responsible channels, concur in declaring that Mr. JOHNSON will hold the Arkansas bill until the Omnibus bill now pending in the Senate is also passed, when he proposes to veto both in a lump. The Chief Justice must look after his neophyte at the White House sharper than this. His own Presidential aspirations cannot spare those States from the New York Convention. More than one of them concurs with Alabama in holding their delegates to be not admissable as long as representation in Congress is denied them. The strength of Mr. CHASE is all Southern, as everybody knows, and it is most unkind, ungrateful, indeed positively cruel, in the man whose acquittal he has just completed, to cut off so much of that strength by obstructing the preliminary reconstruction of those States.

The truth is that none of these intimations, as to the President's willingness to sanction the restoration of these States, were ever entitled to credit. It does not suit his purpose to have so much Radical strength added to his opponents in Congress, if he can help it. He thinks himself already safe, in that the two-thirds majority against him in the Senate is effectually destroyed. The result will prove that, in a full Senate, he relies upon about the same vote which acquitted him to sustain his vetoes. We hope we may prove mistaken in this, but the event will speak for itself within the coming fortnight.

We took occasion, some days since, to remark that the Democracy were standing, just now, so far as concerns the Presidential question and the proper policy for the campaign, at the parting of two roads. CHASE invites them upon the one, following the equal suffrage banner, and showing them the broad Southern field for an easy conquest. PENDLETON leads along the other, for "a white man's government" and unlimited paper-money. These are the two candidates, and these the respective policies which will divide the Democracy at New York. Neither candidate suits Mr. JOHNSON, who has aspirations of his own to satisfy. It would be peculiarly a pleasure to him to damage the Chief Justice, who has recently laid him under a painful sense of obligation. Still less does he like the dogma of negro equality. JOHNSON was originally of the class whom the blue-blooded Southern aristocrats, whose toady he has now become, used to call "mean, low-down whites," and he can no more shake off the natural antipathy of that class to the blacks, than a leopard can change his spots. A "white man's government" is what JOHNSON wants, and it must be confessed that he has given us for three years a captivating example of its merits. On that line, PENDLETON stands in his way, and he is, therefore, with characteristic adroitness, playing off the Chief Justice against him, making that eminent functionary his tool for a second time, intending at the right moment himself to slip in and take the prize.

The status of the Southern States in the New York Convention thus proves to be an important element in Democratic Presidential intrigues, and, if JOHNSON can bring it about, the Chief Justice who managed impeachment to secure the humiliation of his own enemy at Chicago, will find himself crucified in turn at New York by an unscrupulous abuse of the power which he contributed effectively to prolong in JOHNSON'S hands. The President will strip him, if possible, of that Southern strength, overrated as it is, which constitutes the Chief Justice's total stock in trade. It has been already anticipated that JOHNSON would prove treacherous to his Judicial ally at the first opportunity. That opportunity seems to be near at hand.

OBSTRUCTIONS IN THE RIVER.

A memorial to Congress, a copy of which is before us, from captains and pilots engaged in the navigation of the Ohio river, supports, with a very formidable statement of facts, the demand made by the marine interest for Congressional interference against the threatened obstructions to navigation. For example, coal-boat flotillas are made up often in tows 260 feet wide and 600 feet long, with a draught of seven feet, and carrying 336,000 bushels. It is next to impossible to guide such a tow upon a swollen stage of water, with a six-mile current between piers only 300 feet apart. To have steerage way, the engines must give still greater speed, and the whole mass is sent rushing along the arched and whirling surface of the water at a rate which exposes both property and life to destruction. As a natural consequence, the losses at the Steubenville bridge are regular and in many cases large, not only by the destruction but by the detentions to which boatmen often think it prudent to submit. The size of these tows can be reduced, but with a corresponding advance in freights. Such tows as are described deliver coal, in a fair stage of water, at Cincinnati, for one and a half cents per bushel, the railway rate being about twenty cents. Large numbers of people who are employed in procuring and preparing the coal of the Monongahela Valley for market, will see, therefore, that their interests are directly assailed by the erection of these obstacles in the way of their access to the down-river markets. Impediments which embarrass navigation, diminish the size of tows, increase the rates of freight, and enable the coal men of districts below to compete successfully with us and undersell us in our best markets. The result necessarily must be discouraging to our own business, the cessation of mining and laborers thrown out of employment.

The same considerations affect the lumber trade, but perhaps to a less extent. The coal, lumber and oil districts lying on the waters of the Upper Ohio should send in at once, therefore, their representations to Congress, demanding that these important interests should be protected from the injury, as needless as it is irreparable, which the construction of these narrow-span bridges will inflict directly upon them.

Don't allow the matter to rest upon what pilots and steamboat captains are doing. The digger in a Monongahela colliery is more deeply interested than the proudest skipper on the Ohio; the latter has his craft insured and takes pay for all risks out of the coal owner, while the digger is too often dependent upon his trade for his sole livelihood, and when that is cut off finds it hard to earn bread at a new occupation. To one, a tow of coal boats sunk by a bridge pier is a matter for the insurance company which makes him all right, the owners of the coal having footed the bill for the premiams, while to the other the sinking of that tow means often a twelve month of pecuniary distress. Rush in the petitions, then, at once!

RAILWAY SUBSIDIES.

It is rumored that a committee of the Senate is prepared to report in favor of granting a further subsidy to the Kansas Pacific railway, extending the road from Pond Creek into New Mexico. We sincerely hope that Congress will lay this measure, and all others which contemplate a further addition to the burthen of public obligations, upon the table, and leave them there. No matter how strenuously such schemes may be endorsed by public officials, or urged by combinations of private interests, it is imperatively the duty of the majority in each House to withhold sanction from any proposition to increase the volume of the public debt, at this or any other session, until the Treasury shall have progressed much further in the liquidation of the existing engagements.

This is not simply a question of fidelity to the avowed principles which pledge the Republican party to economy in expenditure. There is the higher consideration of public duty which should warn members to abstain from the further appropriations, which no necessity warrants and which the people justly feel that they should not be expected to bear. The public faith stands already pledged to one trans-continental road which, by the aid of a liberal subsidy, is rapidly progressing and will be completed within two years to come. This faith cannot now be withdrawn. The road will be completed by the addition of nearly forty millions to the outstanding public bonds. The railway company asserts its ability to pay the interest thereon, and to meet the principal when due, and there are good reasons for crediting the assertion. This one road, as an avenue between the two sides of the continent, binding the States of the Pacific to those of the Atlantic, presents such unquestionable claims upon the National support that the policy which sustains it is accepted on all hands as wise. At present, that road will meet all the requirements of the people. There exists no similar necessity for further subsidies, to projects of a more precarious character, and which are very far from presenting to the Treasury the same likelihood of immunity from pecuniary risk.

The people, burthened with a vast existing debt, are not rich enough to run any risks on this point. There is no such array of probabilities to sustain the financial aspect of these collateral schemes, as exists in support of that principal line. While this, by its direct facilities, unites three States and five Territories to the Republic, from which they have been, hitherto, so far isolated, the side lines, such as the Kansas Pacific, and the Northern Pacific for which it will be an entering wedge, will penetrate, the first into two and the other into four sparsely settled Territories, which are at present too imperfectly developed to furnish the traffic for adequate pecuniary returns. New Mexico and Arizona have little or no value as territories, beyond their geographical position and their vaguely reported mineral resources, while the territories on the Northern line, which, if the Kansas road is subsidized, will demand the same concessions, can make a far more promising estimate of their ability to repay the cost of its construction. This line would traverse Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington Territories, each of which displays a large area of fertile soil, and offers mineral inducements quite as high to the immigrant as upon the Southern line to New Mexico.

Are we to understand this proposition, in favor of the Kansas Pacific road, to be the opening movement in the great raid upon the Treasury which common rumor has foreshadowed for months past, and which, it is said, is to be consummated to the extent of over two hundred millions of dollars before the present session closes? We warn Senators and Representatives alike that no such scheme, as a whole or in detail, can be justified at this time. If every dollar of the proposed appropriations were defensible under other circumstances, with the national finances unembarrassed, it should be remembered that no considerations, except of the most imperatively absolute public necessity, can warrant any addition to the existing engagements. The votes of members will be closely scrutinized by the people. Public attention has been pointedly directed to this matter, and members, who are so indiscreet as to disregard popular sentiment by voting for all or any of these projects, will not find their account in it such as to bear the judgment of their constituents. Motives of a personally discreditable character will be charged upon them, whether justly or not, and it will require a very clear, plain showing to reduce the imputation, which is sure to be made, from that of corruption to one of mere indiscretion. Are members willing to face either of these charges?

THE organ of the Democracy of Pittsburgh, and of Western Pennsylvania, which came out so promptly the other day in favor of "delivering this nation from both principal and interest of the public debt," is anxious to know if we are also supporters of its doctrine. The same journal, a day or two before, editorially charged a blackmailing dodge of the JOHNSON Democratic office-holders upon the Republican party, and keeps mum when requested to correct the misrepresentation. Until it can be "candid and outspoken" enough to give the facts on that point to its readers, it should not expect a reply to its other inquiries. One thing at a time. That suppression of the truth demands its first attention.

Mr. Chase and the Presidency.

In a recent conversation with James H. Harris, of North Carolina, the latter told the Chief Justice that there was a great deal of talk about his being a Democratic candidate, on a platform of universal amnesty and universal suffrage.

In substance Mr. Chase replied that he had always been an anti-slavery man and always expected to be; that he never had gone down to any man or party. In 1848, in Ohio, neither of the great parties could elect a Senator without the aid of the Liberty Party. The Democrats made a proposition to its members, and agreed for their support to repeal the black laws and elect a Free Soiler to the United States Senate. He was himself elected on that coalition, and the bill repealing the black laws passed as he had himself drafted it. He had not gone down to them—they had come up to him. If his friends placed him in a similar position now, he was in their hands.

He also said that, as was stated, he had always been opposed to impeachment, considering it wrong and ill-advised, whether in policy or principle. For this he had been grossly abused. Alluding to reports in newspapers, he stated that he had not been in the White House for many months.

In response to a fear expressed by Mr. Harris that the division in the Senate might prevent the Southern States being admitted to representation if the President vetoed the bill, the Chief Justice was emphatic in assuring the North Carolinian that, in his opinion, the President would not veto any such bill. He then passed on to a defense of Mr. Johnson, declaring that he could not be charged with opposing the reconstruction laws, and asked Mr. Harris if good commanders had not been selected? The latter referred to Hancock, to which the Chief Justice said he thought the General did wrong at New Orleans.

THERE are but two parties in the approaching contest. One includes the men who were for the country in the struggle of the rebellion, and the other derives all its strength from those who were against it. General Grant undeniably leads the first, and whoever leads the latter must hold himself ready to assume all the responsibility of seeking to win a victory at the polls for the cause of the Rebellion, which it failed to win on the field of battle. Whether it be Chase, or Pendleton, or Hancock, or Hendricks, or Fessenden, or Seymour, the army which is to be led will be the same, and the banner under which it marches will be essentially the same that was lowered before the Stars and Stripes at Appomattox, and which will be humbled in the dust wherever it encounters the victorious eagles of General Grant.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

THE ex-Confederate General, W. C. Wickham, who rose to high military distinction under Lee, has taken the stump for Grant and Colfax in Virginia. In an address to the people of Hanover county, on Monday, he indorsed the Chicago nominations in the warmest terms, announced himself an out-and-out Republican, and asserted that the blacks were not only entitled to suffrage, but that it was essential for their protection. General Wickham's course will have a marked influence upon many of the ex-Confederates, particularly the soldiers of his old division.

SOLDIERS will of course observe that Republican Conventions are again making good the professions of the Republican party for the benefit of surviving soldiers who defended the Union during the late war. In every county in the State where a Republican majority is certain, where nominating conventions have been held, a fair share of offices are allotted to soldiers. Such is the truthful and practical carrying out of Republican regard for our heroes.—State Guard.

THE Freeman's Journal (Democratic) says: Mr. Chase, certainly, ought to run for President—but, on his own hook, as a consistent Black Republican. The Democratic party, this time, are in earnest in meaning to have a candidate inside their party. They have been beaten enough, by trying to get the vast Democratic party, at the whistle of the managers, to run for somebody because he wasn't a Democrat."

THE Democratic press talks wildly about radicals "ruining Miss Vinnie Ream," without once recalling the equally bitter words it visited upon Congress when the youthful and ambitious artist received the Congressional commission to execute a statute of Lincoln. The comments of the opposition papers at that time were far from complimentary towards the bewitching Miss Vinnie.

A WASHINGTON special says: A proposition to make a general revision of the tariff having been killed in the Ways and Means Committee, they are trying to get a small bill through which shall apply to as many articles as possible. The Ways and Means Committee have designated three of their number to look into the matter and report to the full Committee as soon as possible.

PRIVATE advices from the South state that since the failure of impeachment, the colored people are having a terrible time. The change for the worse has been rapid, and nothing but the election of Grant and Colfax can save the South from a re-action which will plunge the colored race back into slavery or something very near it.

THE complaisant disposition of the Southern Democrats on the subject of the National debt is well illustrated by John Forsythe, of the Mobile Register, who tells a Northern Democratic editor:

"Do what you please with the public debt—pay it in gold or in greenbacks, or repudiate in toto and we are with you.".

THE California Democratic State Convention was presided over by Governor Holden, one of the most rabid secessionists during the war. In his opening speech, he characterized President Lincoln a usurper, and his calling out seventy-five thousand men unconstitutional. These sentiments were loudly applauded by the rank and file.

A YOUNG man sent his father in the country his photograph, saying that he was poor and required money. The father refused, stating that he could not be very poor to be living surrounded by marble vases, rosewood furniture and choice flowers, as his photograph represented him.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

The Senate has recalled the nomination of Mr. Worthington, confirmed as Minister to the Argentine Republic. Collector Smythe, of New York, is seeking a foreign mission.

President Johnson has consented to name Mr. Groesbeck, of Cincinnati, for the position of Attorney General.

The investigation by the Managers proves nothing about bribery on the part of the Senators, but it has discovered the fact that large sums of money were raised to bribe Congressmen by the whisky ringites, to keep up the present tax.

It is quite probable that the tax bill will be finished in a few days in the House, and if so, the Senate will take it up, and if nothing happens to cause extraordinary delay, it may be passed by the middle of July.

Mr. Chase has decided to accept the nomination for the Presidency at the hands of the Democracy, and he is becoming a great favorite with the Democrats. The Chief Justice is in favor of Gen. Cass for the second place on the ticket.

A. T. Reed, a clerk in the Pay Department, has been arrested, charged with sending circulars to all the postmasters in the country soliciting five dollars from each to aid a certain political party.

President Johnson will probably hold the Arkansas bill until the other act admitting the five Southern States is passed, when he will veto both.

Outside of Congressional matters there is little of interest occurring. Many members have left for their homes on account of the extreme warm weather which prevails here.

In the Senate, Mr. Van Winkle reported adversely upon the bill providing that the marriage of soldiers' widows should not result adversely to her claim to pension from the Government. The bill extending relief to the contractors of iron clads was then taken up, and was under discussion. It is understood that the bill providing for the admission of Colorado will be called up within a day or two by Governor Yates. Chairman of the Committee on Territories. There is but little opposition on the part of the Radical Senators to admitting her.

In the House, soon after meeting, there was a lively time over the joint resolution introduced by Mr. Washburne, of Indiana, adding twenty per cent. extra to the salaries of the clerks in the various departments of the Government for one year. commencing June 30th, 1867. The yeas and nays were called upon the motion to lay the resolution on the table, and it was decided in the negative by a vote of forty-six ayes to seventy-one nays. The previous question was then called, but pending the morning hour expired, and the bill went over till Monday next.

The President has sent to the Senate the following list of nominations: Lorenzo D. Simmons, Assessor of the First District of New York; Himer Calkings, Receiver of Public Moneys at the Falls of St. Croix; Z. Reazanpast, Chaplain in the United States Army.

GRANT ON NORTHERN COPPERHEADS.—General Grant said in our hearing, not long ago: "The rebels we whipped, as it was our duty to do; they fought us bravely, and I for one have no spite against them. If they behave themselves, I shall think well of them. But the Copperheads and peace men of the North—the men who, during the war, reviled the soldiers, encouraged the enemy, and did their utmost to stop supplies and reinforcements to our boys in front—such men I can't forgive; I will never forget them, nor have anything to do with them.—N. Y. Evening Post.

THE Boston Transcript observes: One of the most noticeable indications of the times is the business-like way in which many journals refer to the proposed purchase, by the Democratic party, of Chief Justice Chase. Some Republican and many Copperhead journals seem to see in the transaction nothing but a question of political profit and loss, and the discussion relates, not to the infamy of the bargain, but to the largeness of the price. "Will it pay?" is the query put on both sides.

SCIENCE ADVANCES.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, &c., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them. There have been many spurious Bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while HOSTETTER'S has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health and strength. For many years we have watched the steady progress of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS in public estimation, and its beneficient effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach, of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation after years of careful study and sitting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only prepartion of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES.

DR. KEYSER says: "You want air, not physic; you want pure air, not medicated air; you want plenty of nutrition, such as plenty of meat and bread will give; physic has no nutriment; gasping for air cannot cure you; monkey capers in a gymnasium cannot cure you; and stimulants cannot cure you. If you want to get well, go in for BEEF AND OUT-DOOR AIR."—Republic.

He says further: Don't put off the first symptoms. "A little leak may sink a great ship;" a small sore in the throat, lungs or liver will soon involve the whole body. How often do we see people put off for a year or two what in the beginning could have been remedied for a trifle. The Doctor's advice is, and always has been, attend to the first symptoms of disease. Do not let the constitution become a wreck before you begin to mend; if you do, ten to one there will be no remedy. There is a remedy for every disease if taken in time. A slight sore throat or cough may be removed with comparatively little trouble; but a constitution, sinking and breaking to pieces by allowing these little troubles to accumulate is not so easy. Dr. Keyser's mode of lung sounding is unique, and as thorough as it is unique. There is not a spot or space over the whole surface of the lungs that he does not sound and investigate, and by so doing is enabled to supply the appropriate remedy.

FOR thirty years the Democratic party has been the representative of violence, turbulence and anarchy—embodiment of injustice, bad faith and passion—the evil spirit of our country. No calamity could befall more disastrous to peace, welfare and prosperity than the success of the Democracy next November. That calamity, in is our most sacred duty to avert, AND WE WILL!

A LIVING LIKENESS.

Marshall's Great Line Engraving Now Ready.

The only true and faithful portrait of the Great Commander, ULYSSES S. GRANT. Experienced Agents wanted in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, in every township.

READ THE FOLLOWING COMMENDATIONS:

"I cannot say too much in its praise. As a likeness I do not think it could be better.
Mrs. JULIA D. GRANT."

"In the execution of the work, art seems to have achieved its highest triumph. The likeness is most perfect. Hon. E. B. WASHBURNE."

"It should become the standard picture of our great Military Chieftain.
SENATOR WILSON."

"It appears to me to give the character of the original more perfectly than any engraving which I have seen. WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT."

"The likeness is striking, and the picture lifelike. O. O. HOWARD, Maj. Gen."

"It is a rare and finished work, worthy of a place in any collection. SENATOR SUMNER."

This Engraving, so timely, excellent and cheap, will be sold only by subscription. Good Agents are wanted in every town. Agents will do well to consider this standard portrait, with which there is NO COMPETITION.

FOR SALE.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon-shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of NOTICES.

☞ OFFICE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY,
PHILADELPHIA, May 13, 1868.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.

In pursuance of resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors at a Stated Meeting held this day, notice is hereby given to the Stockholders of this Company, that they will have the privilege of subscribing, either directly or by substitution under such rules as may be prescribed therefor, for Twenty-five Per Cent. of additional Stock at Par, in proportion to the respective interests as they stand registered on the Books of the Company, May 20, 1868.

Holders of less than four Shares will be entitled to subscribe for a full share, and those holding more Shares than a multiple of four shares will be entitled to an additional Share.

Subscriptions to the new Stock will be received on and after May 30, 1868, and the privilege of subscribing will cease on the 30th day of July, 1868.

The installments on account of the new Shares shall be paid in cash, as follows:

1st. Twenty-five Per Cent. at the time of subscription, on or before the 30th day of July, 1868.

2d. Twenty-five Per Cent. on or before the 15th day of December, 1868.

3d. Twenty-five Per Cent. on or before the 15th day of June, 1869.

4th. Twenty-five Per Cent. on or before the 15th day of December, 1869, or if Stockholders should prefer, the whole amount may be paid up at once, or any remaining installments may be paid up in full at the time of the payment of the second or third installment, and each installment paid up shall be entitled to a pro rata dividend that may be declared on full shares.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, June 8, 1868.

Gold was firm to-day at 139⅝ to 139¾, although the shipments of coin were less last week than was expected, and bonds advanced in the European markets, but the coin reserve in bank is so much reduced that speculators would advance quotations if it was not for the near approach of large Treasury disbursements. Foreign exchange is tending towards lower rates, and purchasers are very limited.

Government bonds are rather weak, and quotations are barely sustained. There is less desire manifested to buy for investment, and few are bold enough to buy for speculation. The advance of the Pacific Railroad bonds to par, and 103 respectively, with a very limited amount of bonds on the market has made these securities such a favorite, that parties who wish to buy for long investment prefer to purchase these in preference to United States bonds at a premium of 113¼. It will be but a short time when these bonds will nearly disappear from the market held only by parties for trust funds and in like manner.

The Stock Market was rather tame, and Fort Wayne declined again to-day. It was stated in these columns about the beginning of last week, that the market lacked the suppurt of bonafide investors, and that the whole movement was engineered by a few prominent lookers who wished to get clear of the stock which they have been carrying for about a year. The balance of the stock list is in the same condition, every little rise is followed by a corresponding decline, and it is only the shrewd management of the influential operators that keeps up prices. Express Stocks were more in demand at the present low prices when compared with former quotations, but wheather these stocks are cheap, is difficult to say. The stocks are owned by a class of men who got rich very rapidly, by continually watering the stocks so long as the public was willing to buy the stock at high rates, but at present they pay no more than any other investment, that has no such risk attached. Mining shares are more active, but the dealings are limited when compared with the summer of 1866.

Money easier, because legitimate business does not require much capital from its stagnation. Some lively engineering was made for some Railroad bonds, under the impression that these bonds would advance, but it will be found that after the next coupons are paid, they are to be had exdividened proportionately less than the present.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 139¾; 1881 bonds, 116⅝; 1862 5-20s, 112⅜; 1864 do, 110½; 1865 do, 110⅜; Consols, 113; 10-40s, 106; 7-30s, 109½.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, 8, June, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was again a very full supply of Cattle on sale to-day, about seven hundred and fifty head, and with a diminished demand and fewer buyers in attendance, the market was without doubt the dullest one of the season. Of the whole number offered, less than four hundred were from Chicago; the balance came from Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. Last week, there were several wholesale buyers in attendance, while this week, they were like "hen's teeth," remarkably scarce. Peter Klemen was the only eastern buyer we saw, and up to the time we left the yards, he had bought nothing, and it is not likely that he would, as there were no sellers at his prices. Compared with last week, prices are from ¼ to ½c lower; prime to extra fat cattle sold to-day at from 9 to 9¼, against 9½ to 9¾ last week, and, even at the reduction, the demand was by no means active. Common and inferior cattle, as always is the case, went off more slowly than the better grades; the decline in prices was, if anything, more marked. We noticed several bunches of grass cattle in market to-day, the first of any importance this season, and both drovers and butchers expect from this time forward, prices will rule much lower than during the past winter and spring, and we most earnestly hope that their expectations will be realized to the fullest degree. The following is a pretty full report of the sales:

E. Katz sold 42 head of common mixed stock at 4½ to 6¼.

L. Rothchilds reports having retailed 31 head of very common stock at 5½ to 6¼.

Hazlewood & Blackstock retailed 18 head of prime to extra Chicago steers at 8¾ to 9¼; 18 unsold—held at 9¼.

Arner wholesaled 16 head of mixed Ohio stock to Shamberg at 4½ to 8¼.

Chas. Hudson had 18 head of mixed Ohio stock; may be quoted at 6 to 8½.

Shamberg & Hartman report having sold 34 Chicago steers at 8¼ to 9¼.

Kraus & Haas sold 53 head Chicago steers at 8 to 9¼.

Keefer 17 head Chicago steers at 8,50 to 8,80.

Jas. McAllister 26 head of mixed Ohio stock, on commission, at 6½ to 8¾.

Greenwald & Kahn retailed 51 head Chicago steers at 8¼ to 9½; shipped 34 head Ohio steers east.

Lobman & Zeigler report having 16 head Washington county steers, bulls and cows at 4½ to 8.

Marks & Traurman 54 head Chicago steers at 8 to 8½.

Dolan & Co. 18 head of prime Chicago steers—up to ten o'clock—unsold.

Holmes, Lafferty & Glass report having wholesaled and retailed together, 80 head of Iowa stock at 8¼ to 9.

Hedges & Taylor sold 38 head of Illinois steers for Davis at 8 to 8½; 20 head Indiana cows and heifers at 6 to 7¾.

N. Carr retailed 18 head Chicago steers for Dolan & Co. at 8 to 8¼. Mr. Carr indignantly denies the charge made in this report last week, that he had been selling cows. He has too much respect for himself and his vocation to sell any stock that will not bear an examination by the meat inspector.

Myers & Needy sold 16 head of Ohio steers for C. Montgomery at 8 to 9, and 60 head on their own account at 8½ to 9¼.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply of Sheep and Lambs was again large this week, every pen available about the yards being full, and, as was the case last week, quite a number were left over unsold—either taken back home or sent to the Central yards. This being the case, the market was the dullest one of the season, and unless for strictly prime mutton Sheep, of which there were but few in market, prices ruled lower than last week. Lambs, also, were exceedingly dull, and they, too, as well as Sheep, ruled lower. We noticed some of the same Sheep on sale to-day that were offered last week, and we should not be surprised to find them again in market next week. We were quoted the following sales:

Walters 63 head Sheep and Lambs; $2 to $3,50 per head for the former, and $1,75 to $3 for the latter.

Beeler 40 head Sheep, for which he asked $4, and 20 Lambs held at $1,50 to $2,50.

M. Humes sold 60 head at $3 to 4,50, for sheep, and his lambs averaged $3.

H. Bradley wholesaled 105 head of lambs at $1,75 per head; cost him $2,50 per head in the country.

Flinner 60 head at from 3 to 5½ cents ℔ pound.

McCaslin sold 85 head of good sheep to Stakely & Bro., at $4,87½ ℔ head.

Geo. Maxwell sold for Robert Maxwell, 35 head; 15 for $46; and 20 at 5.18 ℔ pound.

J. G. Glenn had 50 head; held at 5 cts.

Adam Eckert had 102 on sale for Sergeant; sold 50 head of sheep at $4,20, and lambs at $2 to 2,50.

J. Neely had 49 head of Washington Co. sheep, for which he expected to get 5 cts.

McMullen & Kerr, had 102 of Washington County sheep; sold some of the tops at 6 cents.

J. Rynn had 50 head on sale for Emerick & Co.; sold 15 head at 5¾.

E. Davis had 92 head; sold some of the best at 7 cts.

Stakely & Bro. had 200 on sale; Roberts 148; and there were two lots from Green Co., one of 95, and the other of 175; the great proportion of these were left over.

HOGS.

Market dull and unchanged. We continue to quote in a retail way, at 9 to 11 cents, as to quality and condition.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, June 8, 1868.

There is no abatement in the excitement in the Crude market, and with a firmer feeling than on Saturday, a still further advance has been established. We can report a sale of 1,200 bbls to arrive on this water at 11¾c, and 600 to 800 bbls, on spot, at 12c. As will be seen, the volume of business was rather light, but this may be attributed to the fact that holders are not offering very freely at quotations, having hopes of realizing still better prices, while buyers, as is generally the case, do not take hold very quickly when the market is advancing. A telegram from Oil City late this afternoon says: "Market still continues firm with an upward tendency; on creek selling freely at $4,25, and at this place holders are asking $4,75 without finding buyers. Weather clear and warm."

REFINED—The market for Bonded Oil was also very firm and considerably excited to-day and compared with Saturday, prices have still further advanced. We can report sales of three "lines" of 500 each from August to December, at 32; 500 each for September October and November, at 32; and 500 for first and 500 for last half of August, at 32; June and July, in the absence of sales, may be quoted at 30½ to 31. The present advance is regarded as legitimate, being nothing more nor less than the result of supply and demand, and so far as we can learn, dealers are generally satisfied.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Recipes.

We are indebted to the American Agriculturist for the annexed recipes:

SALAD DRESSING.—Lettuce should be prepared only the moment it is to be eaten, as the vinegar causes it to wilt, and one of its charms, its crispness, is lost. But for the regular lettuce salad, pure and simple, the lettuce is to be washed and well drained, then thoroughly moistened with oil and vinegar, and a little salt added. The old rule is: "Be prodigal of oil, prudent with salt, and parsimonious with vinegar." The amount of vinegar will depend upon its strength and one's taste. Of really good vinegar I use one spoonful to three of oil. Stir in a large bowl with a wooden salad spoon until every part is well moistened.

BOTTLING STRAWBERRIES.—While the strawberries are being picked over and the stems removed, a quantity of juice will drain from them. This should be placed in a porcelain-lined kettle, with the desired quantity of sugar—a little over a quarter of a pound to a pound of fruit is sufficient for most tastes. Let this syrup simmer a little, and add the fruit. Let the whole come to a boil, and as soon as possible after it boils all throughout, bottle or can, completing one at a time. Glass bottles should first have a little warm water put into them, to warm them and prevent the bottle from breaking. This is, of course, to be poured out before the fruit is put in. Every bottle should be full at the time of putting on the lid; when cold, the contents will have shrunk considerably.

BOTTLING RASPBERRIES.—Red raspberries are the best for this purpose. Proceed in the same way as for strawberries. If no juice runs from them, add a little water, or place the dish of fruit on the back of the stove, and the juice will soon start. Many use water always, though they will be much richer without. A little red currant juice added is a great improvement.

RASPBERRY VINEGAR.—Use red berries, and to two quarts add one quart of good vinegar. Let it stand twenty-four hours. Strain through a flannel bag, and pour the juice over two more quarts of fruit; let it stand as before, and strain again. Allow three-quarters of a pound of loaf or good white sugar to every pint of juice. Stir well, and place in a stone jar and cover. Set the jar in a kettle of water, and let it boil until the sugar is dissolved. Bottle for use. A tablespoonful in a tumbler of water makes a pleasant drink for invalids, or for any one in the intensely hot summer months.

GLYCERINE.—A bottle of this should be kept in every family. It is a clear, colorless syrup, sweet, and forms the main principle in fats. It has no smell, if pure; hence it is not disagreeable. For chapped hands it is excellent, preventing the air from reaching the skin, and thus keeping it moist. It is the best hair oil in the world, as it never takes on taint. It keeps the hair moist, as it has the merit of not being dried by the air, but draws moisture from the atmosphere. It is also the principal medicine for ear complaints, especially a dry ear. Pour a few drops into the ear.

POVERTY PUDDING.—Soak your bread in milk the night before using; when ready, butter your pudding dish, and place in a layer of the bread. Have a dozen apples pared and sliced, and place a layer of apples on the bread, another layer of bread, then of apples, and so on, till your dish is filled; let the last layer be bread, and bake it an hour. To be eaten with sauce.

BOILED CRACKER PUDDING.—Split four soft crackers, pour a pint of boiling milk over them, and add immediately a cup of suet well chopped. when cool, add five eggs well beaten, a little mace, and as many raisins as you like. Boil three hours, and eat with sauce.

PRESERVING EGGS.—Dissolve four ounces of beeswax in eight ounces of warm olive oil; in this put the tip of the finger and anoint the egg all round. The oil will be immediately absorbed by the shell, and the pores filled up with wax. If kept in a cool place, the eggs after two years will be as good as if fresh laid.

PINE-APPLE.—Pare and slice the fruit; make a syrup of a pound of sugar and half a pint of water to every pound of fruit, and when it is clarified and well skimmed, drop in the apples and let them simmer slowly for half an hour.

PINE-APPLE MARMALADE.—Pare and grate the pineapple, and take equal parts of fruit and sugar and put into your preserving kettle, and cook slowly until it is clear. It is very nice and keeps well.

PINE-APPLE CIDER.—Cut the rind of one large pine-apple, or two small ones, into small pieces; put them into a pitcher with two quarts of water. Tie a piece of thin cloth over the pitcher and let it stand to ferment. Then strain it and sweeten to your taste. Put into bottles, cork tightly, wire them well, and lay on the side. It will be ready for use in forty-eight hours.

A TIDY.—The following directions make a simple and elegant one: Take a piece of thin muslin, ten inches square; in the centre draw any design you choose—a palm leaf or other simple figure; and work it in chain stitch with scarlet wool, turn down the edge, as if for a hem, and work around in button-hole stitch with the same wool; finish with a ruffle (not too full) an inch and a half wide. The rufle should be fluted. Double zephyr is the most suitable wool in use, and half an ounce will be a great abundance for an ordinary tidy.

A GENTLEMAN residing near Albany, has been making some champagne on a small scale with the astonishing result that it was better than Cliquot. This is his receipt: "The receipt for making this wine I took from some agricultural paper. The process of its manufacture was simple, and is as follows: The grapes were about one-third Isabella, and the remainder Hamburg! They were well ripened, and were put into a clean barrel and pounded till thoroughly mashed. They were put into a cullender and pressed with the hand till the liquid was separated from the pulp.—The juice was then strained through a fine sieve, and put into stone pots and allowed to stand five or six days, frequently skimming the impurities from the surface. After standing as above stated, 17 pounds of refined crushed sugar was added to 8 gallons of juice, and the whole stirred till the sugar was dissolved. It was then allowed to stand in the stone pots 36 hours, still skimming the impurities as they rose to the surface. It was then put in bottles and allowed to stand 24 hours before corking; after which the bottles were well corked, the corks cut close to the bottle, and the muzzle of the bottle dipped into melted sealing-wax, so as to exclude the air, and the bottles were then put into the cellar."

DEVICES IN GRAFTING, ETC.—Gardeners of Italy sell plants of jasmines, roses, honeysuckles and other flowers, growing together from a stock of myrtle, orange or pomegranate, on which they appear to be grafted. It is said that this is done by boring out the center of the stock so that it forms a hollow cylinder, through which the stems of flexible plants are readily made to pass, and their roots intermingle with those of the stock. After growing for a time, the increase in the diameter of the stems thus enclosed forces them together, and they look as if united to one common stem.

The following is a simple mode of obtaining what may be called grafted annuals, a pretty experiment, and one we know to be successful: Take a small twig of the elder bush, split it lengthways, and having scooped out the pith, put into each half a few seeds of flowers of different kinds and colors, but which blossom about the same time. Fill in around the seed with fine soil, join the two halves together again, tying them with a bit of wool, and plant the little twig in a pot of fresh earth; weed and water it the same as other plants. As the seedlings appear, the stems growing together become so incorporated as to seem only one stock, which throws out branches of different flowers.

BARE SPOTS ON A NEW LAWN.—(X. Y. Z. New York, May 18, 1868)—I have half an acre intended for a lawn. It is stiff clay, well drained last fall; well frozen during the winter; and with twelve and a half two horse wagon loads of manure raked in last fall. I sowed red top and a little white clover five weeks ago. It is now green, but with bare patches. Should I sow more seed on these? Would a little guano and ashes do good?

Make a compost of sifted garden mould, one bushel, and Peruvian guano twenty pounds; pass it four or five times through a common ash sifter to mix it perfectly, and sow a quart of this to a square yard (on the bare spots.) Then rake it in thoroughly and sow fresh seed. Should it become very dry before the grass is well up it must be watered lightly at evening.

Wood ashes will be a good dressing to the whole lawn, but they should not be used in connection with the guano—it would be better to have a rain on this before the ashes are sown.

STRAWBERRIES.—Strawberries planted on moist ground give out no runners; but by placing them on a dry soil with water at some distance, runners are seen traveling around, until they discover it, and there remaining a living aqueduct to supply the plant. If these runners are removed to the other side they will soon regain their original position, with unerring certainty.

REMARKABLE EFFECT OF DAMPNESS.—Robert Bachelder, of Salisbury, New Hampshire, has a flock of twenty-eight sheep which, during the winter, were housed in a place where their wool became filled with hay seed. They have been out to pasture for several weeks, and the seed has sprouted, and they are now bearing about with them a crop of grass two inches in length.

WATER may be preserved for an indefinite period of time quite pure, either in casks for long voyage or in cisterns, by the addition of about three pounds of black oxide of manganese powdered. Stir it well together and the water will not only keep, but will lose any bad taste it may have acquired.

ONE day's picking of strawberries from a farm near Norfolk, Va.—2,970 quarts—was sold in this market for $1,158. Another strawberry farm yields 2,628 quarts in one day, which brought $1,084, in this city.—N. Y. Tribune.

A WET silk handkerchief tied loosely, and without folding, over the face, is said to be a good security against suffocation and smoke. It permits free breathing and at the same time excludes smoke from the lungs.

A FARMER'S WIFE says three tablespoonsful of ground Java coffee given to a cow in a mess will cure the scours, and a less quantity given to a calf or pig will never fail to accomplish the desired result.—Ohio Farmer.

THE veterinary editor of Wilkes' Spirit of the Times recommends the following for scratches in a horse: Take sulphate of zinc, one drachm; glycerine, two ounces; apply every morning.

CATTLE troubled with lice can be readily relieved from them by a free application of the water in which potatoes have been boiled. This is cheaper than a tobacco decoction.

HORSE RADISH is recommended as an excellent remedy for hoarsenes, cough, sore throat and slight diseases of the lungs.

PURE, unalloyed white lead is good for a cement for china or glass.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be adplied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, facteries, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

600 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is on absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through business that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.,

AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT THEY WILL SOON BE AT A PREMIUM.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

ANNIVERSARY.

Annual Meeting of the Allegheny Prison Reform Association—Interesting Addresses.

The Allegheny County Prison Society, which was organized in the spring of 1866, held its first public anniversary meeting last night in the Fifth Street Methodist Church. There was quite a large and respectable audience of ladies and gentlemen present, but the attendance was by no means worthy the importance and character of the occasion. Doubtless many of our good Christian friends remained away because of the unauthorized announcement made in a contemporary journal that a collection would be taken up to enable the praiseworthy association to diligently prosecute the holy work upon which it has entered; but all such will regret to learn that they needlessly deprived themselves of the pleasure of participating in one of the most entertaining and interesting anniversary meetings ever held in our city, inasmuch as no pecuniary aid was invited. After the execution, in the artistic manner for which the choir of that Church is celebrated, of a grand old hymn, the sweet and melodious voices being accompanied by the mammoth new organ, the meeting organized by the selection of Major William Frew as Chairman. An eloquent appeal to the Throne of Grace was made in behalf of the Association and its aims and purposes by Rev. Dr. Scovel, in which the entire audience joined.

On assuming the Chair, Maj. Frew delivered a brief and appropriate address, in which he expressed the liveliest hope that the Association in which he had enlisted his heart, might prosper. He said that the meeting had been drawn together in order for the first time in public to make Christians acquainted with the operations of a Society that had devoted its charitable attentions to a downfallen class of our brethern that had hitherto been almost entirely ignored by the charitable, and who were never made experience the redeeming influence of well guided philanthrophy. We should not drive out from the warm sympathies of our hearts those who, deprived of grace, had fallen from the path of virtue when exposed to temptation, for had a Gracious Lord supported them they might have been as pure and free from guilt as ourselves. Christian charity should go out towards all men, and especially to those whose claims we cannot in justice ignore. The speaker narrated in a pleasing manner how a few active, industrious, energetic, faithful and charitable pioneers in the good cause of prison reformation had followed the work, silently, vigorously, without hope of earthly reward, and through whose exertions, under God, many have been restored from vice and immorality to ornament society, who otherwise might have lingered in the darkness of crime and ignominy. The objects of the Association are first and primarily to ameliorate the physical condition of the prisoners; to correct abuses in systems and managements wherever found. In no place will oppression grow more rapidly than in places of imprisonment. Men in position having control over the outcasts of society naturally become tyrannical in their disposition, for meeting with so many fractious individuals they come to regard all in the same light, become tyrants and oppressors. It is to correct this evil, to see after the hygeia of the prison, to provide for the wants of the inmates, to take measures to secure the rights of the unfortunate, and surrounding them with moral and intellectual influences to effect lasting reformation of character. Heretofore the fact has been lost sight of that the law contemplates reform as well as punishment. The prisons through the exertion of such noble associations as the Allegheny County Prison Association, can be made great reformatory schools. The speaker narrated several interesting incidents of his experience on the visiting committee, and concluded by exhorting all to lend their sympathies and prayers in the good cause. Christian men and women should not permit criminals to rot unnoticed and uncared for in their dingy cells, but should go into them, preach the gospel truth, and they will show how much power there is in kindness. Calm their spirit of revenge, make them acknowledge the justice of their punishment, submit to it humbly, and they will come out determined to live honest, virtuous, upright lives, where otherwise, if neglected, unfortunately they might become more desperate from their associations in prison, and on gaining liberty plunge deeper into sin and iniquity. The Christian heart is wanted to extend sympathy. If money is withheld, do not withhold encouragement and sympathy. In the work set forward we do not know where good will end. We do not know how many souls may be reclaimed and saved. One of the most beautiful and touching remarks of our Saviour was "When I was sick and in prison you came unto me." Let us look kindly and in a Christian spirit on those who have fallen from grace, and if there is a work worthy our warmest sympathies it is that undertaken by the Association whose anniversary is celebrated.

Mr. McLaughlin, the prison agent of the Association, was the next speaker. He fully explained the workings of the Association, the good it had already effected, the reformations which had followed its operations, and its future hopes, plans and projects. He stated that the Judges of the Court, the Prison Inspectors, and the officers of the jail and penitentiary fully appreciated the good work of the Association and lent a helping hand when desired. A library has been established in the jail and it is expected to supply all the prisoners regularly with intellectual and religious food, and to thus do away with gambling and card-playing hitherto so prevalent in those quarters.

Rev. W. H. Locke was next introduced to the audience. He said that it seemed that the Society had performed its work with so little show that the people were hardly aware of its existence. While all of its beneficial workings had been quietly carried on, he felt that it was now time to use efforts to make the community acquainted with its good works. The speaker held that it is one of the gratifying signs of the times that religion is finding its way into new and hitherto secluded avenues for doing great good. The Association should be congratulated over the good it has effected during the brief term of its existence. Sympathy has been called for, and, during the war the principle of alleviating and caring for the uncared ones was introduced, and the speaker went on to show how the brave wounded in the camp and hospital had esteemed the simple acts of kindness from those who gave them to know that while unable to do great acts of generosity, yet could afford to sympathize, and make them feel that they were cared for. Most of the prisoners are undergoing just punishment, but all are worthy of our attention: none are beneath our love and sympathy. It was the speaker's earnest prayer that God may bless the men and women engaged in this holy work, and that great and lasting benefits might result from the operations of the Association.

Another excellent vocal execution by the choir here followed, after which Rev. J. B. Clarke, of Allegheny, was introduced. He paid high tribute to the Association, and expressed himself as opposed to the system of solitary confinement in vogue in this State, which he believed worked more evil than good. He cited a great reformation now going on in the Nashville Penitentiary, where the chaplain was privileged to form his Sabbath Schools and have his congregation of convicts assembled before him to hear the gospel. In our Penitentiary it is impossible to effect much good by preaching, since the hearers are shut out from the view of the preacher. The reverend speaker hoped the Society would meet with proper encouragement from the Christian community. Its object to lead erring ones back to the path of virtue should meet with sympathy on all sides and every lover of reform should help push the work forward.

Rev. J. G. Brown next addressed the meeting, making a very eloquent and earnest appeal for the Association and narrating his experiences as a member thereof. He paid a just tribute to Messrs. Carlisle and Orr, who were among the originators of the Society, and concluded by presenting the faults of our prison discipline when compared with what is popularly known as the "Irish system." He hoped the latter system would be adopted in this country, for no reformation can ensue unless the convict is educated to forming habits of industry.

Rev. J. S. Dickerson was next called upon for an address but gracefully declined, owing to the lateness of the hour.

On motion of Mr. Jos. R. Reed, a vote of thanks was extended to the daily papers for gratuitous publication of meeting announcements, and to others who had performed friendly offices for the advancement of the cause of prison reform.

On motion of Mr. W. N. Ogden, a vote of thanks was returned to Rev. Alexander Clark and Trustees of the Church for the privilege of meeting therein, and to the choir for the excellent music by which the meeting was enlivened.

After the singing of the Doxology by the choir, and a benediction by Rev. Alex. Clark, the meeting adjourned. Thus was celebrated the anniversary of one of the most useful and praiseworthy charitable associations in our State, and we trust its existence may be perpetuated and that its efforts toward effecting reforms in our prisons may be encouraged and seconded by a generous and philanthropic community.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

The Ballou case is still on trial. It will probably be concluded to-day.

In the bankruptcy branch final discharges were granted as follows:

Samuel Kahn, of Corry; Jos. Saxton, of Huntingdon; E. H. Rogers, of Susquehanna county; James Alexander, of Scranton; Thos. Doulin, of Susquehanna; Samuel L. Bettie, of Wilkesbarre; Wm. L. Vaughn, of Susquehanna; Joseph Knauss, of Luzerne; David Levi, of Luzerne; Joseph Fellows, of Luzerne; Wm. Tracy, of Pittsburgh; Leander L. Griffin, of Scranton; Peter Sloan, of Scranton; John B. Perkins, of Erie; Samuel Seldon, of Erie; Paige Croswell, of Erie; E. A. Hobson, of Erie.

The following petitions for adjudication were filed: R. C. Custer, Erie; William H. Chraiken, Erie; Oscar Auer, Lycoming; Gideon R Wolfe, Centre; William B. Huling, Williamsport.

Common Pleas—Judge Sterritt.

C. Opperman vs. Morrison, Kegley & Co. This is an action to recover the sum of $754,90 which, it is claimed, the firm, who are proprietors of the Keystone glass works, Birmingham, have owed the plaintiff since May, 1867. On trial.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

The case of Wm. Finch, Sr., vs. City of Pittsburgh, already reported, continues on trial.

A Card to the Public.

Dr. E. S. Aborn would most respectfully inform the public that being unable to attend to his rapidly increasing business, he has secured the services of an eminent Professor from one of the Medical Colleges of the East, and that they are now prepared to treat on the most scientific principles all Chronic Diseases, no matter of how long standing. Persons desiring the services of the Doctor are respectfully informed that patients living within five hundred miles of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, unable to visit him, will be visited upon such terms as may be agreed upon. The Doctor most successfully treats all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Throat, Lungs, Chest, Stomach, Liver, etc., etc., Catarrh, Consumption, Cataract, Dyspepsia, Blindness or Cross-Eye, Tumors, Scrofula, and all Diseases of the Blood. The Doctor solicits all cases that have resisted all former or ordinary treatment. Patients within the city limits unable to call at his office will be visited at their residences.

Medical and Surgical Rooms No. 134 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Office hours from 8¼ A. M. to 7½ P. M. Sundays from 9 to 10 A. M., and 3 to 5 P. M.

Thousands of testimonials of remarkable cures from well known citizens can be seen at the Doctor's office.

His valuable book entitled "Practical Facts by a Practical Man," or "The Pathway to Health and Happiness," treating upon the various Diseases of which the Doctor makes a specialty, sent by mail on receipt of fifty cents.

The Oakland and East Liberty Railway.

We understand that Mr. Siedle, who has efficiently superintended this popular road since August last, retired from his post on the 1st instant. Mr. Mathias Raah succeeds him. The public regrets to part with Mr. Siedle, who has been very successful in his efforts to secure the public approbation for this line. But we recognize in his successor a gentleman who has had a long previous experience in charge of the road, and who, we are quite sure, will continue those exertions to please which have already made the road so popular. It is well stocked, and run to the minute by careful, civil drivers and polite, attentive conductors. During months of daily famliarity with its service, we take pleasure in saying that we have never seen an unpleasant thing or heard an offensive word from any of the employes. And this is the general testimony of the regular patrons of the road. There are rumors that more cars are to be added and ten minute time to be adopted, but we are unable to verify them.

The Protestant Episcopal Annual Convention of Clerical and Lay Delegates for the Diocese of Pittsburgh, will assemble this morning at ten o'clock in Trinity Church, Sixth Street. The first hour and a half will be devoted to religious exercises and the balance of the day to business. A sermon before the Female Prayer Book Society will be preached by Rev. Mr. Purdon, of Titusville, at 7¼ o'clock this evening, in Trinity Church. On Wednesday evening, at the same place, a public missionary meeting will be held.

Boy Drowned.—It is rumored that yesterday afternoon about four o'clock a boy between six and seven years of age, whose name we could not learn, was drowned in the Allegheny river near the railroad bridge. The little fellow was playing on a raft and fell into the water accidentally. The fact was communicated to a number of men at work in the neighborhood, but too late for them to render any assistance. His body had not been recovered up to a late hour last night.

Confidence Operators Arrested.

The "confidence" operators, who have been working with such remarkable success in this city for several weeks past, were foiled in an attempt to victimize an old man yesterday. A Mr. Joseph Long, of West Newton, in company with seven of his neighbors, were on their way to Tennessee, and had taken passage on the steamer St. Marys for Cincinnati. About one o'clock the "well dressed man," who gave his name as John Thomas, came on board, and selecting Mr. Long as his victim "went for him." His first object was to get him off the boat, and to do so it was necessary to strike up an acquaintance. After ascertaining Long's destination he stated that he was bound for the same place, pointing out a large trunk, which was being carried on board as his, and also claimed a pile of goods on the wharf. After some further conversation he remarked to Long that it would be some time before the boat left and proposed a walk up town. Long, being a man fifty years of age, did not feel like walking, and declined. Thomas then asked him if he had seen the white bear, stating that there was one up in the city as large as a mule, also naming over several other living curiosities, and at length the old man agreed to go up and take a look at the show, inasmuch as his friend had promised to pay all expenses. They had proceeded but a short distance up Wood street when Thomas called Long's attention to a man who was approaching them, and remarked that it was "Mr. Stanley," the gentleman from whom he had purchased the goods he had shown him on the wharf, and just at that moment he remembered that he had not paid Stanley for the goods, and had also came off the boat and left most of his money in his trunk. He had a government bond with him which he exhibited, but he did not wish to part with it. He then asked Mr. Long how much he could lend him until they returned to the boat? The old gentleman, not being the fool Thomas expected to find, replied that he could not lend him any. Just at this moment Stanley stepped up and asked Thomas for the money for "those goods," and remarked that he had shipped that "white bear." Thomas again appealed to Long and offered him the bond as security until they returned to the boat; but the old man had his suspicions aroused and would not bite. He remarked that as the "white bear" had been shipped, he believed he would "ship" also, and quietly walked away from the party. A gentleman, who had heard a part of the conversation, inquired of Mr. Long what they wanted with him, and on hearing his statement immediately sent him to the Mayor's office with a friend, and started in pursuit of the sharpers, who left immediately after Mr. Long parted with them, going up Wood street. The gentleman kept in sight of them until near the corner of Sixth and Liberty streets, when he informed officers McGar and Stewart of the transaction, and pointed out the men. The officers arrested Thomas and Stanley and returned with them to the Mayor's office, where they found Mr. Long, who identified them. He made information against them for conspiring to cheat and defraud, and returned to the boat for the purpose of withdrawing his passage money and getting his baggage, intending to remain until a hearing could be had in the case and then follow his travelling companions by rail. Some officious individual, who is doubtless connected with the "confidence" men, persuaded him not to prosecute, by telling him they would keep him here eight or ten days if he did, whereupon he refused to return to the office with the officer who had accompanied him to the boat. The sharpers were still in custody last night, but unless they can be sent to jail under the act of Assembly which authorizes the Mayor to commit "professionals" for ninety days, they will have to be discharged.

Another of the party to which Mr. Long was attached was more unfortunate than his fellow-traveler, as he was beaten out of thirty dollars, shortly after Mr. L. left the boat to see the "white bear."

The sharpers are operating extensively at the wharf, the above being the third or fourth case within as many days.

Pittsburgh Petroleum Association—Adjourned Meeting.

Pursuant to adjournment the Pittsburgh Petroleum Association met at room No. 4 Dalzell's Building, corner of Duquesne Way and Irwin street, Monday, June 8th, at three o'clock P. M., A. M. Long, President, in the chair.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Warden, of the special committee appointed to see the representatives in Congress from this district in relation to the tax on oil, reported that he had seen Hon. Thomas Williams, and had been assured by him that he would give the matter his attention.

The Chair announced that the representatives had been written to by men engaged in the oil business, and he was informed that they would both give their earnest support to the repeal of the tax.

The President then stated that the principal object of the meeting was to take action on bills due the Association.

Mr. Morgan moved that the Chairman and Secretary be constituted a committee to levy an assessment upon the members to pay bills against the Association.

Mr. McIlwaine moved as an amendment that Mr. Morgan be added to the committee.

The motion as amended was adopted.

On motion, adjourned.

Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Bock and his little child, who is about three years of age, were out riding in a carriage, which was driven by George Pastre, and on Ohio street, near East Lane, Allegheny, Mr. B. got out of the carriage for a moment to attend to some business, leaving the child in charge of the driver. Having transacted his business he returned, and was in the act of entering the carriage when the horse took fright and ran away. The driver let the rains drop and jumped out, leaving the child alone in the carriage. The horse ran about two squares down Ohio street, when the child was thrown out, and falling with its head on the paving stones received several severe cuts on the head and face, but none of them serious. The horse ran some distance further down the street when he was caught. The carriage was but slighly injured.

Coroner's Inquest.

The body of an unknown man was found floating in the Monongahela river, Sunday evening, near Hays' coal works, by John Hamilton, who rescued it and took it to shore. Coroner Clawson was notified and held an inquest on the body yesterday morning, when the jury returned a verdict of "found drowned." The deceased wore a grey coat with purple stripes running through it, vest of bluish color, a red and white plaid overshirt, fine light grey pants, blue ribbed socks, government shoes and plaid undershirt. He had sandy hair, and was five feet ten inches in height, and seemed to be about twenty-five years of age. In one of his pockets was a white handled knife with two blades.

Child Drowned.—William Cunningham, aged seven years, a son of Austin Cunningham, of Connellsville, Fayette county, was drowned in the Youghiogheny river on Saturday evening. He was in company with several other children about his own age playing on a raft, which was lying in the river near the bridge, when he fell into the water and drowned before assistance could reach him. His body was recovered and an inquest held upon it by Justice Benjamin Pritchard, of Connellsville, the jury returning a verdict of "accidental drowning."

Advice to a Dyspeptic.

When we speak of dyspepsia every one knows that the stomach is out of order and failing in its functions. You want a prescription in the vain hope that it will cure you. Medicine will do a great deal, but it won't do everything. The most that ought to be expected of it is to lend aid to nature until she can take care of herself; this she always would do if you didn't bother her by rude and unbecoming interferences. I know very well that whisky and tonics, so called, are all in the fashion now for chronic diseases to many people. They are easily taken, and swallowed without boggleing. If you have taken much of these the lining of your stomach is already congested—that is, it has too much blood in it that ought to be somewhere else supplying the powers of life. If your stomach has too much work you must give it rest, and, shall I say it, you must part with some of your table luxuries. Will you do it? I very much fear not; but if you are seriously in earnest, this is my prescription:

1. Rise early, eat a slice of bread and walk out—if strong, walk; if weak, loiter. You may take a tumbler full of cold water with a teaspoonful of common table salt immediately on getting out of bed; sufficient moving; come in to breakfast.

2. For breakfast eat a piece of good steak as large as your hand, a piece of coarse bread and a saucer of strawberries or a baked apple, if you can get them; eat slowly and chew every particle of food well before it is swallowed, for the gastric juice will not be able to do its own work and that which should have been done by the teeth. Drink little or nothing. If you must have something, a cup of black tea or chocolate will do no harm.

3. Digest for an hour, and then to your work; I trust it is in the open air. Work hard till noon, and then rest body and mind till dinner; sleep, if sleepy; drink water.

4. For dinner—two o'clock—eat a slice of beef, mutton or fish as large as your hand, two or three spoonsfull of vegetables, and a slice of coarse bread; giving more than half an hour to this meal; use no drink.

5. After dinner, play anaconda for an hour; now for the social, for pleasant games—a good time.

6. A light supper of toast and tea.

7. In a warm room, sponge your skin with water; hastily use friction after, and go to bed in a well ventilated room at 9 o'clock in the winter and 10 in the summer.

Try this advice for three months and your stomach will recover tone enough to allow you for some time to come to indulge in all sorts of high eating. But if you want it to preserve its tone to a green old age with the other functions of the body in like force and vigor—you will observe these rules long after the necessity for them has passed away.

MORTGAGES.

Same day, seven mortgages, one charter, and one article of agreement were filed of record.

Allemannia Fire Insurance Company.

This institution—advertised in another column—has just completed its organization and commenced underwriting fire risks at No. 42 Fifth street, up stairs, where will be found the accomplished and capable gentlemen to whom the management of the business has been confided, and in whose integrity and fair dealing with customers, implicit confidence may be placed. The officers and directors have been selected from the best known and most prosperous and esteemed among our German merchants and manufacturers, men who by their intelligence, enterprise and success have secured a high place and part in the activities and progress of the city. We predict that under its favoring auspices the "Allemannia" will in its future operations, illustrate the classic fitness of its name—which is from the German and strictly rendered, means all men, or for all men.

Dropped Dead.

Between twelve and one o'clock yesterday Mr. William Jenkins, employed at the steel works of Messrs. Anderson, Cook & Co., on Ross street, as boss bricklayer, fell dead while engaged at work upon a furnace. Dr. Arthurs examined the remains, and gave it as his opinion that deceased came to his death from heart disease. Mr. Jenkins was about forty years of age, and leaves a wife and three children. His residence was on Pride street. He had been employed from time to time by Messrs. Anderson, Cook & Co., for the last twenty years. Coroner Clawson impannelled a jury and held an inquest on the body, and a verdict of "death from natural causes" was rendered.

Cutting a Board Bill.—Mr. Charles G. S. Richards was arrested at the Union Depot yesterday, on information made before acting Mayor Butler, by the clerk at the St. Charles Hotel, charging him with obtaining board under false pretenses. It appears that Richards contracted a board bill of twenty-seven dollars, and was about to leave the city without liquidating it. He was brought to the Mayor's office, where the matter was arranged by Richards paying the bill and costs, after which he was discharged.

My Southern Tour.—Sharp, keen, witty—Miss St. Clair will not fail to touch the sympathies of her audience to-night. It will repay you to hear her.

Amusements.

LA RUE'S MINSTRELS.—A large and fashionable audience attended the Opera House last night to hear the celebrated Carnival Minstrels, who have been holding forth there during the past week, and will remain the present week only. La Rue's Carnival Minstrel troupe is composed of some of the best musical talent engaged in the business. Fayette Welsh has no superior as an "end man," and is one of the best delineators of negro character we have ever seen connected with a traveling company. Their entertainments are as they should be, lively and full of fun, and are at the same time free from low, vulgar and obscene gags, which we regret to say usually characterize such exhibitions. Mr. La Rue continues the liberal practice of distributing one hundred dollars in greenbacks to the audience every night. Last night Mr. David Reno, 88 Robinson street, Allegheny, drew the fifty dollars. The question is who will get it to-night?

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—"Undone," a most amusing and laughable burlesque, is still drawing good houses at the Old Theatre, and will continue to do so as long as it is kept on the stage. In addition to this there are numerous other attractions at the Old Theatre, in consequence of which it is one of the best Variety Theatres that Pittsburgh has ever been favored with. Mr. Aims' management is decidedly liberal, and will in the end prove a successful one. The establishment justly merits the large patronage it enjoys.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Opera House will open on Monday evening next, for a short Summer season, under the managment of Mr. T. R. Hahn, late stage manager, at that establishment, and one of the few meritorious actors in the company. The season is principally for the production of a burlesque entitled "The Great Rebellion; or the Last Ditch," a piece of Mr. Hahn's own composition. Saturday evening last a private reading of the production was given by the author to a few particular friends, who were favorably impressed with it. It is a review of prominent incidents in the Rebellion, slightly painted, to suit the author's views, without detracting from their general interest. The work evinces immense labor and careful study, and we feel confident of its success. Its production will be attended with a heavy expense as it will require a large company, and entirely new wardrobe and scenery, some of which will be very grand. The scenes in the grand transformation, at the close, are said to be transcendently beautiful.

Dr. Aborn's Medical and Surgical Institute.—The medical and surgical rooms of Dr. Aborn, 134 Smithfield street, are daily occupied by persons afflicted with diseases of the chest, head, eye and ear—a busy time the energetic, skillful doctor has had with the sufferers. To enable him to give proper attention to all the cases presented, and at the same time give him some leisure for relaxation, Dr. Aborn has secured the services of an eminent Professor from one of the Eastern medical colleges to assist him in his practice—one well qualified by actual experience as well as theory to prescribe for all the ailments to which humanity is heir to. This arrangement will in ure to the benefit of patients.

Temperance Anniversary.—The third anniversary meeting of the Allegheny Temperance League will be held this evening, at 7½ o'clock, in the Reformed Presbyterian (Rev. John McMillen's) Church. Rev. A. K. Bell, D. D., will read the annual report. Addresses will be delivered by the Rev. John T. Pressly, D. D., Rev. Thomas S. Johnson, of Bakerstown, Rev. S. J. Wilson, D. D., and the Rev. J. S. Lemon, of Greensburg. The exercises will be enlivened with temperance odes, sung by the Allegheny Quartette Club. All members of temperance organizations and friends of the cause generally are cordially invited.

Malicious Mischief.—Charles Deright, one of the School Directors of the Second ward, Lawrenceville, made information before Alderman Irwin, yesterday, charging Wm. Householder and Henry Drenning with malicious mischief. He alleges that the accused, who are boys about fourteen years of age, were throwing stones through the windows of the Second ward School House windows. They were arrested and held for a hearing.

Race at Oakland.—An exciting race took place at Oakland Park, yesterday, between "Kate Morgan," handled by Tom Carl, of Greene county, and "Gray Bill," owned by the McCallum Brothers, Sixth ward. The race was mile heats, best two in three, for a purse of five hundred dollars. The Greene county mare won in two consecutive heats. Time, 1:58½ and 1:57¼.

Surety of the Peace.—Andrew Steel made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, alleging that Morris Pheton had procured a pistol for the purpose of shooting him, and had been following him all day with that intention. The parties are stone cutters and have been working together at the new church on Sixth street. Pheton was arrested and held for a hearing.

Larceny of a Watch.—James B. Johnson lost a valuable silver watch some three weeks since, and yesterday, as he alleges, found it in the possession of Nathan Thompson. He made information before Alderman McMasters, charging Thompson with larceny. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

Released on Bail.—Patrick Tool and Patrick McCune, who were committed by Alderman Thomas on a charge of felonious assault and battery, on oath of Mr. Griffith, an account of which we published in the GAZETTE of Saturday, were yesterday released on $2,000 bail each for a hearing Wednesday.

Sample Seller Arrested.—William Whittaker, an agent for a firm in Philadelphia, was arrested yesterday, charged with selling goods by sample without a license, on oath of William K. Duff. He was taken before Alderman McMasters, where the information was made, and held to bail for a hearing.

False Pretence.—J. C. Smith made information before Alderman James L. Irwin of Lawrenceville, yesterday, charging Horace Busley with obtaining goods under false pretence. Busley was arrested, and after a hearing discharged, and the case dismissed at the cost of the prosecutor.

English Delf, Stone China Ware, Parisian Marble ornaments, fancy goods, etc., at auction. On to-morrow (Wednesday) and Thursday at 10 a. m., and 2 and 7½ p. m. Direct importation. Free sale. At Palmer & Phillips' Opera House Auction Rooms, No. 60 Fifth street.

Special Meeting.—A special meeting of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers will be held this evening at 7½ o'clock, in the Common Council Chamber, relative to school taxes in the Seventh ward. A full attendance is desired.

Illegal Liquor Selling.—John Patterson made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, charging Frank Logan, of Birmingham, with selling liquor on Sunday. Logan was arrested and held for a hearing.

Choice Miscellaneous Literature. — By Catalogue—Auction sale on Friday evening at 7½ o'clock, at Palmer & Phillips, Opera House Auction Rooms, No. 60 Fifth street. Catalogues ready this day.

At Palmer & Phillips' Opera House Auction Rooms, No. 60 Fifth street—this day—the entire stock of gents furnishing store by auction. Call and see.

Miss St. Clair is exceedingly popular with the ladies, and oftentimes her audiences are composed mainly of the fair ones.

A Marvelous Cure.

Mr. T. McEvoy, a very worthy young man employed at Moorhead's Rolling Mill, called at our sanctum last evening to communicate for the benefit of the afflicted a marvelous cure effected on him by Dr. E. S. Aborn, the well-known surgeon and oculist. Nineteen years ago, when a mere child four years of age, Mr. McEvoy was afflicted with that loathsome disease, the smallpox. As a dreg he was bequeathed by the dreadful scourge an opacity, or white spot, which grew entirely over the pupil of his left eye, completely destroying its sight. Hearing of Dr. Aborn's skill he repaired to his office some two months ago and placed himself under his treatment. Last night he expressed himself to us as effectually and entirely cured and could now see with an eye which had been totally blind, unable to discriminate light from darkness for over nineteen years. The cure was remarkable, but it may be regarded only as another link in the great chain of evidence of Dr. Aborn's skill and ability as an oculist and surgeon.

All Cutaneous Diseases, as tan, freckles, roughness, sunburn, dryness from cold or heat, inflammation, blotches, eruptions, yield to the potency of Burnett's Kalliston. Burnett's Florimel has the oder of a bouquet. TTsT.

Reserved Seats for Miss St. Clair's lecture to-night, at the box office, Masonic Hall, after ten o'clock.

—Advices from Mexico represent the condition of the interior very much demoralized, Society chaotic, crime and violence everywhere prevalent.

—At Memphis a negro boy wounded Gilbert Fenner and shot Lloyd Brown his brother-in-law with a shot gun, killing him instantly, for threatening to whip him. The boy escaped, although the deed was done in the middle of the day and centre of the city.

—The Turners of Pittsburgh district, consisting of societies from Pittsburgh, Wheeling, Johnstown, and other places in Western Pennsylvania and on the Ohio river, are now holding an annual festival at Cleveland. The attendance is large. They had a sacred concert Sunday night, and public games and a procession on Monday.

—The law passed by the Kentucky Legislature creating a Board of Police Commissioners for the city of Louisville has been declared unconstitutional by Judge Styles, of the Louisville Court of Common Pleas, and the application by the Police Commissioners for a writ of mandamus against the Mayor to deliver up the station house to them was denied. The case will doubtless be carried to the Court of Appeals.

—Work upon the Ohio river bridge, at Louisville, is being prosecuted with great energy on the Indiana side. A large force is employed upon two of the most important piers, and the contractors are satisfied that the masonry will be entirely finished this year. On the Kentucky side the superstructure is being raised and in a short time the draw over the canal will have been completed. From the first of July it is intended to erect two of the bridge spans per week. All the plans have been made with a view to the completion of the bridge by next spring.

FOR SALE.—HOBOKEN.—THE balance of those desirable Lots are now offered at private sale, and any one desirous of fine building sites would do well to make a selection. The village is located on a beautiful and healthy spot, two and a half miles from Sharpsburg, on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, which runs through it, making it much more valuable and agreeable. Extensive preparations are now making for erecting a number of fine houses, which will prove an ornament to the town. The remainder of these Lots will be sold at very reasonable rates and on terms exceedingly easy. BILL & SHUTTERLY, Real Estate and Insurance Agents, Lawrenceville.
